DUBUQUE — Dubuque Hempstead, rated near the bottom of the Mississippi Valley conference and without a Valley win in its three years of existence. upset Cedar Rapids Washington, the Valley's pre-season top-rat-ed team, 25-12 here Friday

Led by sophomore quarterback Tom McLaughlin, the upstart Hempstead squad built a 19-0 lead before the Warriors could get on the scoreboard late in the third period on a 61-yard run by Greg Witwer.

McLaughlin, who alternated with junior Mike Matz, plunged for two touchdowns and hit Jeff Pape on passes of two and 60 yards for the other two Hempstead scores.

McLaughlin and Matz directed a six-play scoring sequence in the first quarter after a 33yard punt and a 15-yard penalty against the Warriors gave Hempstead the ball on Wash's 27 yard line.

The two quarterbacks took turns hitting Mike Weber on passes of eight and seven yards before McLaughlin went over from the one.
