

Wash strolls to 33-6 win over Iowa City West

By Steve Allsapp
Gazette sports writer

The contrasting moods were evident in the locker rooms after Cedar Rapids Washington demolished Iowa City West 33-6 Friday night in Kingston Stadium.

For Wash, it was all sweetness and light, back slapping and congratulations among players and coaches for a 7-2 season.

Across the tunnel inside Kingston, though, the mood was somber and serious. Jon Meskimen's first edition of West High football went 0-9.

Yet, there was some similarity between the clubs because both coaches were reflecting on what might have been.

Washington got two touchdown passes from Todd Stout to Barry Beardsley and touchdown runs from Willie Hodges, Kyle Doolin and Bruce Mims, yet Coach Wally Sheets found time for seriousness, even though his club had frolicked at will in devastating West.

"I don't want to take anything away from West, but it would have been a scheduling break to play them just before Kennedy. Maybe some of our key injuries would have had one more week to heal.

"I think everybody got to play and some of the guys hadn't been in a game before."

Meskimen, the former Cedar Rapids Jefferson all-stater and all-Big Ten guard at Iowa, was also in a reflective mood.

"Sure it's been frustrating. Wouldn't it be if you lost all nine games? But these kids never quit.

"We started the season playing seven lettermen and only 14 guys went both ways for us. Tonight we used 24 players I consider regulars, so there's hope for the future. I'm not giving up by any means."

West's Bob Biederman fumbled the opening kickoff and after Bill

Norris recovered for Wash, Mims pranced 12 yards to score on the first play. With 5:24 to go in the first quarter Stout hit Beardsley with a 19-yard TD pass.

West's John Kuddes offset a one-yard TD smash by Kyle Doolin with a 45-yard dash in the second quarter, but Stout hit Beardsley again from 12 yards out for a 26-6 Wash edge at halftime.

Sheets made wholesale lineup shifts in the second half and nine different backs carried the ball for Wash, tenth-rated by Associated Press this week and a 7-0 loser to C.R. Kennedy last week. A loss that took the Warriors out of the 4A playoff picture.

Vernon Brown, Wash's leading rusher, missed the contest with an injury, but Hodges carried 18 times for 84 yards and Doolin added 49 in six tries. Reserve Doug Thomas picked up 42 yards in five attempts.

Hempstead ruins Kennedy title bid, 14-7

Reed proud of Cougars in windup

Special to The Gazette

DUBUQUE — Cedar Rapids Kennedy football coach Greg Reed was a disappointed but proud man Friday night after his Cougars ended their greatest season by losing to Dubuque Hempstead 14-7 in the Mississippi Valley Conference championship game.

The loss boosted Hempstead (6-3) into the state Class 4A playoffs for the first time.

"I'm proud of these kids," said second-year coach Reed. "We had a 2-7 record last year and finished 7-2 this year. That's quite an improvement."

Kennedy's 7-2 record is the best in its football history. Ironically, both Cougar losses were suffered at Dalzell Field here; they also lost to Dubuque Senior 7-6.

The Cougars played without starting fullback Pete Oates, who was sidelined with a deep thigh bruise suffered in last week's 7-0 victory over C.R. Washington. The 190-pound junior was Kennedy's second-leading rusher with 674 yards in 119 carries.

"I don't think Pete being out of the game was the difference, though," said Reed. "Jeff Johnson did a good job for us." Johnson ran eight times for 34 yards.

"We're not going to make excuses," Reed said. "They just beat us."

"Their line came off the ball very well. I thought the game would be won up front in the line, and it was."

Led by the running of fullback Marty Ball, Hempstead outgained Kennedy 219-113. Ball rushed for 105 yards in 23 carries. Mustang tailback Steve Maas added 58 yards in 17 carries.

"Ball looked like an all-American tonight," Reed said. "He's my all-conference fullback."

Although held in check by a swarming Hempstead defense, Kennedy tailback Tracy Crocker also is certain to be a first team all-Valley choice — for the second time.

The 6-foot-1, 185-pound senior was limited to 51 yards in 23 carries. He finished his final prep season with a school-record 1,058 yards in 204 carries. During his final 13 games as the Cougars' starting tailback, Crocker ran for 1,661 yards.

On its second possession, Hempstead marched 88 yards in 17 plays to lead 7-0 with five seconds left in the first quarter. Ball ran for 38 of those on six carries, but Maas scored the touchdown on a three-yard slant.

A big play in the drive was a pass interference penalty on the Cougars. The pass was overthrown and Hempstead would have been forced to punt from the Cougars' 45.

Instead, the Mustangs received a first down at Kennedy's 30. Six plays later, they scored.

With 8:06 left in the first half, Hempstead began a time-consuming drive which ended at the Kennedy 15. A lost fumble — recovered by Kennedy's Jack Clark — stopped the Mustangs' advance with 4:25 left until intermission.

Hempstead gained 137 yards in the first half while limiting Kennedy to only 42. Ball had rushed 13 times for 71 yards at the intermission. He was limited to 34 yards on nine carries in the final half.

On Hempstead's first possession of the second half, the Mustangs used 13 plays to drive 54 yards for a 14-0 lead with 1:55 left in the third period. Junior quarterback Rick Crews scored on a one-yard keeper.

Kennedy's only touchdown was set up by Maas' lost fumble at the Lions roll, but miss spot in football playoffs

By Mark Dukes
Gazette sports reporter

Linn-Mar did not get a little help from its friends last night.

Although the Lions won their fourth straight East Central conference title with a 46-7 romp at Cedar Rapids Prairie last night before 1,800 fans, Coach Tex McCoy's team was knocked out of the state prep football playoff picture.

Victories by Monticello, 27-21 in overtime over Maquoketa, and by Waverly-Shell Rock, 33-0 over Iowa Falls, clinched class 3A, section 3 playoff spots for them but ended Linn-Mar's post-season possibilities.

"The conference championship made our season complete," said McCoy, who saw his team lose only to Anamosa (13-12 in the second game of the season) in nine games.

"We endured even though we had many injuries during the year. It would have been nice to get into the playoffs because we were just starting to roll. We played awful good since the Dyersville Beckman game."

After the 23-20 Linn-Mar win in overtime at Beckman, the Lions won their last five games and outscored their opponents 175-33.

Mike Woodhouse, who missed the first two games and had been slowed all season by a hamstring injury, unpacked the Linn-Mar passing game that was averaging only 56 yards per game in the conference.

Woodhouse threw touchdown passes of 11 and 49 yards to Charlie Bullock and extra-point passes to Mike Fillmore and Rod Feddersen. Woodhouse completed 9 of 22 pass attempts for 153 yards — 142 in the first half.

The senior quarterback also led Linn-Mar in rushing with 62 yards in nine carries. Jeff Tipton, the second leading rusher in the ECI, had 59 in 12 and Pat Murphy added 44 in 13.

The Lions scored 14 points in each of the first two quarters before Prairie scored on a 78-yard run by 170-pound senior Jack Millard with 2:58 left in the half.

Millard's off-tackle run netted more yards than did the entire Prairie rushing offense. The Hawks, who needed a win to tie Linn-Mar for the ECI title, had minus-yards rushing in three of the four quarters and finished the game with 64 yards on the ground.

Linn-Mar dominated the game by running 67 offensive plays to Prairie's 29. Indeed, Linn-Mar held Prairie to two first downs — one in each half — and minus-14 yards rushing, discounting Millard's TD run.

Prairie, which failed to cross the 50-yard line in the second half, accumulated 80 yards on nine penalties while Linn-Mar was assessed 70 on eight fouls.

Linn-Mar enjoyed good field position the entire game. The Lions scored on drives of 56, 29, 49, 47, 59 and 30 yards. Tipton also recovered a Corky Summers fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

Home tests for Iowa, ISU

The University of Iowa and Iowa State University have important home games today, both starting at 1:30 p.m.

Iowa, bidding for an upper berth in the Big Ten conference, tackles a pesky Indiana University squad that has been up-and-down in the current campaign while the Cyclones, ranked among the Top Twenty in both the Associated Press and United Press-International polls and still bidding for Big Eight honors and a possible bowl trip, tackles a rugged Colorado squad that has also had its ups-and-downs.

Indiana may give the questionable Iowa pass defense a severe test today. That area has been a major problem for the Hawks, as Purdue scored five touchdowns via the air and Michigan last week scored all three of its TDs on passes.

The Cyclones, impressive last week in a resounding 41-3 win over Kansas, will face a Colorado team they have beaten only five times in the last 30 meetings.

There's another big game coming up in Eastern Iowa that will settle the West division title in the Midwest Conference. Coe college of Cedar Rapids is at Cornell, also at 1:30 p.m.

Cornell, unbeaten in its last 11 games, holds the favorite's tag, but the Kohawks are unbeaten in West division play and this game will be for the title. Both teams are at near full strength for the showdown test.

Other Iowa teams are in action today. Grinnell is at Carleton in another Midwest Conference game; Wartburg faces Luther in another standout rivalry at Waverly while Upper Iowa hosts Central in Iowa Conference features.

Jeff rolls by 32-13 at Muscatine

MUSCATINE — Cedar Rapids Jefferson handed Muscatine its 44th consecutive loss Friday night defeating the Muskies 32-13 in the final Mississippi Valley Conference football game of the season for the two teams.

The Muskies, under former Jefferson sophomore Coach Gary White, gave the J-Hawks a scare as they held a slim 7-6 halftime lead.

There was no scoring until late in the first quarter, Jeff linebacker Jeff Wenzel picked off an errant throw by Muscatine quarterback Jim Kim at the Muskie 40-yard line and returned it to the 28.

The Muskies then allowed one J-Hawk first down before getting stingy and forcing a fourth and 19 situation on the J-Hawks. But Jeff head coach called a screen to the J-Hawks' Mr. Reliable, halfback Gregg Trosky.

Trosky, who clinched the MVC scoring title, grabbed a screen pass from quarterback Randy Trachta and followed his blockers to paydirt on a 21-yard play with 1:03 left in the initial period.

Jefferson then tried to pass for a two point conversion but failed.

Muscatine's score in the opening half was also set up by an interception. The Muskies gained possession on the Jeff 35 where the J-Hawks held, forcing a fourth and nine situation. Then Muskie halfback Mark Tate was interfered with on the 17 and Muscatine quickly capitalized on the Jeff error sending Joel Longtin up the middle on first down for a touchdown with 1:03 left in the half.

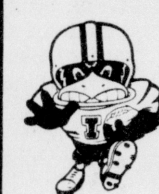

Longtin then kicked the extra point to give Muscatine a 7-6 lead at the intermission.

The second half was all Jefferson, aided by a few costly Muscatine errors.

Jeff took the ball on the Muscatine 28 after a short punt. Then the

Lisbon shocks East Dubuque

EAST DUBUQUE, Ill. — Lisbon upset previously unbeaten East Dubuque 7-6 in a hard-hitting Mid-East Iowa Conference football game here Friday night.

Mike Wieben plunged three yards

North Tama upset, 7-6

TRAER — Dave Krafka's 2-yard plunge capped a 45-yard drive following a pass interception and Bret Hennessey kicked the extra point with 41 seconds to play to give Dysart-Geneseo a stunning 7-6 upset over North Tama Friday night. The loss ended North Tama's long-shot class AA playoff hopes.

North Tama failed on a 2-point conversion run after its first-quarter touchdown, and could not capitalize on several subsequent scoring opportunities. Dysart twice held in crucial 4th-down situations, and came up with two key pass interceptions prior to the one that set up its winning TD. North Tama contributed a misconduct penalty to Dysart's drive.

Luther wins 7th straight

WAVERLY (UPI) — Luther took four of the top five finishing positions Friday to capture its seventh consecutive Iowa Conference cross country title.

Luther teammates Paul Mullen and Keith Ellingson tied for individual honors, completing the 5-mile course at Waverly Country Club in 25:38. Third place went to Jerry Fitzsimmons of Central in 26:02 and he was followed by Eric Lindberg of Luther in 26:04 and Dani Fjelstad of Luther, who finished in 26:27.

Rounding out the top ten finishers were Steve Corson of Luther, Jeff Benson of Dubuque, Jim Thompson of Wartburg, Carl Lindberg of Luther and Brian Hantsberger of Central.

Team scoring

1. Luther, 18; 2. Wartburg, 72; 3. Central, 75; 4. Dubuque, 77; 5. William Penn, 118.

Waverly is perfect 33-0

WAVERLY — Waverly-Shell Rock takes a 9-0 record into the Class AAA Iowa prep football playoffs Wednesday night after closing its regular campaign with a 33-0 non-conference conquest of Iowa Falls. Dave Arns threw a pair of touchdown passes and completed nine of 15 for 145 of Waverly's 368 yards. Iowa Falls totaled just 74 yards.

Cyclones tops

AMES (UPI) — Iowa State took top honors in the AIAW Region Six cross country meet Friday as six Cyclones runners placed in the top ten.

Iowa State sophomore Debbie Vetter led all individual finishers with a time of 17:10 in the 5,000 meters race at the George Veenker Golf Course. Vetter, who took the Big Eight Conference championship earlier this year, remains undefeated.

Iowa State collected a total of 26 points, Kansas State was second with 77 and Minnesota had 88. The three teams qualified for national competition in Austin, Texas, Nov. 19.

Other teams finishing in the top ten were Missouri with 153; Kansas, 163; Golden Valley Lutheran, 203; Nebraska, 205; Central, 235; St. Olaf, 260; South Dakota State, 275.

Kathie Twomey, Minnesota, was the second-place individual finisher with a time of 17:28 in the 5,000. Cadie Schilly, Iowa State, was third followed by Renee Urish, Kansas State, and Bridgette Seip, Iowa State.

File suit

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Six former Indianapolis Racers and one current player on the World Hockey Association team filed suit Friday for $1.7 million for alleged breach of contract by the team's former management.

in the second quarter for the Lions' only touchdown.

Wieben's heroics followed an interception that set up the score.

East Dubuque's John Roth caught an 18-yard scoring pass from Tim Sherman for the Warriors in the fourth quarter. East Dubuque's extra point attempt failed and Lisbon contained the Warriors for the remainder of the final period to claim the one-point victory.

Lisbon finished the season with a 6-3 record. The loss dropped East Dubuque to 7-1.

Olin wins 30-12

PRESTON — Olin's Lance Husmann scored three touchdowns as Olin downed Preston 30-12 in prep football action Friday. Bruce Ahrendson intercepted a pass and raced 40 yards for the Olin tally.

Keith Larson scored both Preston TDs, one on an 18-yard pass from Mark Ackerman and the other on a one-yard run.

Mid-Prairie rolls

WELLMAN — Dave Showalter and James Erb each scored three touchdowns as Mid-Prairie blasted Waco 41-0 in a non-conference prep football game here Friday night.

Mid-Prairie (7-2) held Waco to minus 42 yards rushing in the contest while rolling up 375 yards total offense.

BCL beaten

CONRAD — Jay Barber kicked a 22-yard field goal in double overtime to give Radcliffe a 3-0 win over BCL in high school football Friday night. Radcliffe finished the season with a 5-4 record while BCL dropped to 1-8.

Cunningham new boss for Philadelphia

By Lee Linder

Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billy Cunningham, who never has coached, accepted a great challenge Friday and took over the squabbling, faltering Philadelphia 76ers, a team of millionaire superstars regarded as the toughest team to coach in the National Basketball Association.

"I feel it was an opportunity that could come once in a lifetime," the former 76ers' star told a news conference. "What shocked me most is that my wife was in favor of it."

Cunningham, who quit the NBA in 1976 because of a knee injury, said 76ers owner Eugene "Fitz" Dixon offered him the coaching job just before midnight Wednesday, after the team lost at home to the Chicago Bulls. The loss was the third straight for the faltering Sixers, now 2-4.

That was when he decided to fire Gene Shue, who in his four years as coach of the 76ers led Philadelphia out of pro basketball's cellar to the championship finals last season before being wiped out by Portland.

"I have felt for some time that our team has not been progressing sufficiently," Dixon said as Cunningham sat silently beside him. "It was a difficult decision to make, but I felt it had to be done."

Would Cunningham have to bring home a title to keep the job?

"No," said Dixon, who has paid more than $15 million for his franchise and players and expects a winner.

"No," echoed Cunningham.

"That is not the case at all," Dixon said.

"That is the objective, but I don't need basketball to survive in life," added Cunningham. "It is a great challenge to me, and when you are involved in basketball for 28 years of your life it's hard to walk away from."

The 34-year-old Cunningham is a native of New York City who came to the Sixers in 1965 from North Carolina. He scored 16,000 points in an outstanding pro career before he retired and the Sixers retired his "No. 32" jersey.
