Hawks' defense improved

Michigan and Ohio State in rushing offense (206.7), ninth in passing offense (155.5) and seventh in total offense (362.2).

The Hawkeyes have an edge in every defensive category, ranking second against the run (77.2), seventh against the pass (262.0), fourth in total defense (339.2) and third in scoring defense (18.0). Iowa has allowed seven touchdowns in conference games, Illinois 19.

Five Illinois receivers have caught 20 passes or more, with the leader being Mike Martin. He has 46 catches for 719 yards and three TDs. Tight end Tim Brewster is next with 32 receptions for 419 yards.

Phillips leads Iowa in receiving (21 for 176) as well as rushing. The Chicago junior ranks fourth in league rushing with an average of 104 yards per game, and needs to average 107 over the last four games to join Dennis Mosley in Iowa's 1,000-yard club.

Eason shared the Big Ten Offensive Player of the Week award last week with teammate Mike Bass, as both were instrumental in the 29-28 win over Wisconsin.

Bass, the son of San Diego Chargers defensive coordinator Tom Bass, kicked five field goals against the Badgers — including a 46-yard game-winner as time expired. He is 18-for-21 in field goal attempts for the season.

Iowa and Illinois are alike in that they have excelled in close games. The Hawkeyes have won all three of their games decided by five points or less. Illinois is 3-1 in games decided by a TD or less, losing to Ohio State and defeating Michigan State, Purdue and Wisconsin.

ISU, Wildcats bowl material

The improvement has been mainly on offense. We've been pretty consistent on defense."

That defense is currently ranked No. 1 in the Big Eight and fifth in the nation.

Offensively, the Cyclones are third in the league, averaging 379.3 yards a game. Most of that has come from a balanced running attack, paced by Tommy Davis, Harold Brown and Jason Jacobs. Davis and Jacobs both had more than 100 yards in last week's 31-14 victory over Colorado.

But, ISU showed an ability to throw the ball in that game, too, as quarterback David Archer connected on 16 of 24 passes for 249 yards.

Of course, in past seasons, encounters with Kansas State weren't anything to fret much about anyway. That has changed.

K-State, buoyed by the return of 26 starters (we'll explain that in a minute), also has rolled to a 4-2-1 record this season and seems headed toward its best record since the middle '50s. Its only winning season since then came in 1970 when it was 6-5.

The Wildcats thumped Kansas, 36-7, last week and feature an experienced and opportunistic defense. They currently lead the nation in turnover margin, having forced 29 turnovers while giving the ball away only 12 times themselves.

Turnovers, in fact, seem to be the biggest reason for the Wildcats' success this season. Their offense ranks sixth in the Big Eight and their defense ranks fourth.

As in the case of the Cyclones, the ground attack has been the focal point of the offense. Tailback Mark Hundley, who collected 109 yards in the Wildcats' 10-7 victory over ISU last season, has been the leader again this season with 326 yards and four touchdowns.

But four other backs — Iosefatu Faraimo, Charles Crawford, Pete Brown and Greg Dageforde — all have 100 yards or more this season. Dageforde reinjured his shoulder against Kansas and will not play Saturday but fullback Kilisimasi Toluao is expected to return to action after an ankle injury. Toluao had 80 yards against ISU last year.

The offensive triggerman is quarterback Darrell Dickey, an average but effective passer. The top receivers are split end Mike Wallace and flanker Eric Mack.

Defensively, everything centers around right tackle Reggie Singletary, a 266-pound junior with All-America credentials.

"It seems like the chemistry on this ball team is just right," said fifth-year coach Jim Dickey. "Everyone really gets along and they think about each other. That's a very important part of having a winning season."

And, oh yes, how does a team return 26 starters?

Dickey, in a highly-publicized and boldly-conceived move, redshirted 16 of his best players last season, hoping to concentrate his strength into this season's team. Thus, many of those returning starters were regulars in 1980, not 1981.

It's a move which seems to have worked.

Five arrested in Hawkeye counterfeit ticket caper

By Ann Mittman
Gazette Johnson County Bureau

IOWA CITY — The confiscation of 30 counterfeit student season football tickets at a recent home game has resulted in charges being filed against four Iowa City men and a Coralville man.

University of Iowa Campus Security Detective Richard Gordon filed charges Thursday in Johnson County Magistrate's Court against the men, who are accused of either producing the tickets or attempting to use the tickets to gain access to the Oct. 16 Iowa game against Michigan.

Conspiracy to commit theft charges were filed against John Blanchard, 24, and James Jones, 22, both of 3216 Shamrock Drive, Iowa City; Ronald William Rumpf, 24, 402 Sixth St., Coralville; and Robert Pedraza, 24, 319 E. Davenport St., Iowa City. Charles S. Dunlap, 2018 Dunlap Court, Iowa City, was charged with fifth-degree theft.

Gordon said two counterfeit tickets were confiscated at the Iowa-Northwestern game. Those tickets were thicker than other student tickets and gate guards were alerted to make a closer check of all tickets, Gordon said.

The tickets confiscated at the Iowa-Michigan game "were thicker and more rigid than the normal tickets" which sell for $30 each, Gordon said.

Some of the counterfeit tickets were given to friends without cost, but most of the tickets were purchased for $15 to $60 each, he said.

The investigation of the counterfeiting scheme is not completed and Gordon said more charges will be filed.

Dyersville Beckman tips Oelwein

OELWEIN — Mark Olberding exploded for a 39-yard touchdown run and Brad Lawrence ran the decisive two-point conversion to lift Dyersville Beckman to a 21-19 nonconference football victory over Oelwein Thursday night.

Beckman, which finished 5-4, used four plays to score on a 54-yard drive in the final minute. Olberding added a one-yard touchdown run in the first quarter and finished with 91 yards in 23 attempts.

Oelwein, 6-3, was led by junior quarterback Mike Bailey's 214 yards through the air. He also ran for a touchdown and fired a six-yard scoring pass to Paul Langel in the final minute. The tying conversion pass was dropped.

Kennedy sets marks in loss at UNI-Dome

CEDAR FALLS — Cedar Rapids Kennedy rewrote its passing records Thursday night, but it didn't sidetrack playoff-bound Cedar Falls.

The Cedar Falls Tigers used a big-play offense to forge a 21-0 halftime lead and went on to a 42-18 victory, their eighth in nine starts going into the 4A playoffs.

The second game of a UNI-Dome doubleheader, it demonstrated the advantages of shelter on a rainy night as the two teams generated 966 yards of total offense.

Kennedy quarterback Brad Sleep completed 25 of 48 passes for 251 yards — all school records — and his backup, junior Andy Beer, brought the totals to 28 of 54 for 324 yards.

Chris Kvach led the Kennedy crew of 11 receivers with five catches for 95 yards.

Jeff Pavek accounted for 66 of the Cougars' 97 yards rushing, on 11 carries, and scored all three Kennedy TDs on short-yardage runs.

The loss ended Kennedy's season at 3-6.

However, Cougar Coach Greg Reed said he was "really proud" of his team's "good effort against a very fine team."

"Our game plan was to throw, and the kids did a great job," he elaborated. "This was by far Sleep's best game of the season. Pat Mitchell (Cedar Falls coach) stopped by our locker room after the game and said Sleep is the best quarterback he has seen all year."

enthusiasm will carry over."

Jefferson, which rolled up 16 first downs, finished with 130 yards rushing to go with its 207 passing total. The J-Hawk defense, which looked impressive before the rain came, sacked West quarterback Scott Hebl four times for negative 30 yards.

Driscoll, who led all Jeff receivers with eight catches for 125 yards, finished Valley play with 28 receptions for 482 yards and four touchdowns.

West, which finished 0-7 in the MVC and 1-8 overall, did put on a furious charge in the final period. Chris O'Conner tallied on a two-yard burst, Rod Alberhasky scored on a 12-yard pass from Hebl, and finally, Dave Hesse scored on a 38-yard toss from Hebl.
