TD or Ali

• Maybe you know him better by his initials: TD. That's what most of his Iowa State teammates call Tommy Davis, but his buddy, defensive end Lester Williams of Cedar Rapids says, "Tommy is the Muhammad Ali of our team because of the way he can talk things up and get everyone relaxed before the big games.'

TD is not exactly of Ali's heavyweight dimensions. He is listed at 5-71/2 and 179 pounds, but last fall he outdid Harold Brown, 6-2, 210pound senior, 832 yards to 622, for Iowa State ground-gaining honors. Despite averaging 75.7 yards a game, TD didn't live up to his nickname very often, scoring only three touchdowns in 11 games.

TD was named to the Associated Press all-Big Eight second team, not bad when you consider the firstteam choices were Mike Rozier of Nebraska, Ernest Anderson of Oklahoma State and Marcus Dupree of Oklahoma.

TD is a junior from East St. Louis. His parents, Elven and Winnie, are teachers. When TD matriculated at Iowa State, he listed his major as pre-law, but since then he's switched to hotel and restaurant management.

"Sure, I really try to get our team charged up and help them get rid of any nervousness," TD admits.

'I hate to see our guys get down. In our 19-7 win over Iowa last year, Iowa got us in the hole right off the bat when an Iowa man (Tony Wancket) intercepted Dave Archer's pass and ran it back for a touchdown.

"Man, it looked like a long afternoon, but I tnink I helped Archer settle down by reminding him that Iowa touchdown was just an unlucky break and not an indication Iowa had a better team.

"Pretty soon we started another drive, and we sprang Jason Jacobs loose for a long run. I cleaned out the linebacker on that play, and I was so tickled I ran over to the sideline and told our coaches, 'Move me to guard if I can block like that!'

"In the same game, Frankie Leaks caught a pass and put on a great running move afterward to score our last touchdown. One of Iowa's linebackers shot the gap, but I picked him up and helped Archer get the time he needed to throw.

"Against Iowa in 1981 we had third and eight, and I went 16 yards on a draw play. I didn't score, but Dwayne Crutchfield later took it in for the score.'

You won't catch TD saying, "I'm the greatest," but even Ali couldn't have reviewed his own performance much better. You can see TD doesn't lack for confidence.

Cougars belt Iowa City West, 34-0

By Bob Denney

Statistically speaking, it was the Futility Bowl Friday night at Kingston Stadium.

Iowa City West, a school which is trying to plug an ever-growing losing streak, remained futile. Cedar Rapids Kennedy, rising for the second week in a row to the evangelical-like coaching of first-year boss Al Stiers, kept West hapless.

On a night with 15 fumbles, three interceptions and a barrage of penalties, Kennedy marched home with a 34-0 Mississippi Valley Conference victory over West before 2,500 fans.

"It was a good thing we played defense the second half," said frustrated West Coach Jon Meskimen. "If we hadn't, it would have been 80 to zip!"

West (0-2) suffered its second straight shutout and eighth loss in a row. The Trojans haven't won a Valley contest since Oct. 23, Stiers, substituting freely the second half, could find little wrong despite his team's offense failing to cash in four times from within the 15-yard line.

"Our problems tonight with execution were just the result of overanxiousness," he said. 'In some things we were better than a week ago (a 13-10 win over Regis). We have the intensity, and that's good to see. Obviously, our mistakes (six fumbles and one interception) are correctable.

The Cougars may be on the way to ending their miscues, but West is still mired in a slump. The Trojans were outgained 244-71 in total offense and fumbled nine times, losing Trojans' quarterback Kevin Hebl was harassed all evening by a strong Cougar pass rush, particularly senior noseguard Ken Akers. Akers forced two of Hebl's six fumbles, and had one quarterback sack.

"When you're as small as I am (5-10, 170 pounds)," Akers said, "you have to slip in there when you can. I went in when their back was in motion, and had open shots . . . Stiers has got us going good now.

Kennedy scored four times the first half in a variety of ways. Starting quarterback Larry Thomas marched Kennedy 13 plays and 66 yards before firing a 39-yard scoring pass to Kris Kvach. After West's Hebl fumbled to Kennedy's Tony Kriz (who had two recoveries for the night), Jeff Pavek raced 13 yards to score six plays later, and a 14-0 margin. Thomas completed 4 of 8 passes for 78 yards, while backup quarterback Andy Beer was 2 of 3 for 27 yards.

Kennedy added two TDs in the second quarter, each set up by a turnover. After Chris O'Connor fumbled on the 18-yard line, Beer hit Greg Cone for a 14-yard scoring pass. And, 34 seconds later, linebacker Craig Johnston shot down the sidelines, intercepted Hebl's third pass of the evening, and returned 31

Marion running back Ron Knapp knifes through the Cedar Rapids Prairie defensive line Friday night during the Indians' 28-0 victory.

Todd Tharp passes Marion by Prairie

By Mark Dukes

assistant sports editor Another "T.T." is in the spotlight at Marion.

Quarterback Todd Tharp passed for 122 yards and two touchdowns Friday night, leading traditionally ground-oriented Marion to a 28-0 victory over visiting Cedar Rapids Prairie in high school football.

The Indians built a running tradition in recent years behind another "T.T." — two-time all-state running back Todd Twachtmann, who was recognized during halftime as The Gazette's Male Athlete of the Year

While Marion still rushed for 172 yards, it was the passing of the 6foot-1 Tharp which riddled the winless (0-2) and scoreless Hawks. Tharp's scoring strikes of 35 and 44 yards to Rod Clark sparked the No. 4-ranked Indians to their second straight win.

"We knew we had excellent receivers and Tharp throws very well, so we're not going to be afraid to pass," Marion Coach Dave Messerli said. "I can't remember the last time Marion had two touchdown passes in a game, but it's been a while.

"The receivers ran some good routes and there were some good fakes in the backfield. We had to do something to get Prairie's defense off the line of scrimmage.

Prairie actually outgained Marion in the first half, 118-78, but trailed 8-0. Clark, tearing the ball away from Prairie defender Kevin Schoner at the goal line, hauled in a 35-yard scoring pass from Tharp with 6:37 left in the half.

Sparked by a 26-yard halfback pass from Brian McLeod to Schoner,

Prairie marched to the Marion seven-yard line after the kickoff. But a reverse lost four yards, a motion penalty cost five and Prairie ended up losing the ball on downs with 18 seconds left in the half.

'We hit and tackled people much better in the first half than we did last week," Prairie Coach John Oertel said. "The offense looked good at times and the defense looked good at times, but we have to put it all together.

'Marion always seems to throw the ball well against us. But we didn't realize from the scouting report that Tharp threw that well or that many times (11). On Marion's first series of the second half, a 44-yard Tharp-to-Clark pass and Tharp's extra point pass to Mark Mehlberger put the Indians in front, 16-0.

Tharp was never sharper than during the next drive, as he led the Indians to another touchdown with 3:55 left in the third. Joe Sondag scored on a 19-yard run, on which he broke loose from a tackle at the 10. But a 20-yard screen pass to Chris Kalous and a 16-yarder to Mike Simpson were pivotal plays.

Prairie's best drive in the second half reached the Marion 30 early in the fourth quarter. But Dave Grabe's pass to Schoner was intercepted by Mehlberger at the goal

Junior Jeff Gollaher was Marion's leading rusher with 77 yards - on one carry. The 5-9, 156-pounder broke off left tackle and raced 77 yards to a touchdown with 1:51 remaining

Fullback Robert Pavlicek was Prairie's top rusher with 53 yards on
