Specialty hero

 Craig Clark was all-everything at Columbus Junction High, and he hopes the time will come when he can do something for Iowa's football team in addition to playing on the specialty teams.

Until then, Clark is giving it his best shot. Last Saturday he set a record for the most points earned by a specialty-teams player. Iowa graduate assistants scored him a. 120 points for his tackles and a key fumble recovery in the 26-0 defeat of Michigan.

Craig

"That recovery was pure luck," Clark said modestly. "The Michigan man just dropped the ball, and we had three or four of us right there. The ball happened to bounce toward me.

Maybe so, but he also happened to be in the right spot at the right time against Northwestern. Then he recovered a fumble on the six-yard line to set up Iowa's first score.

His real position is tight end, but he doesn't get much call there, playing behind Jonathan Hayes and Mike Flagg. He and Flagg redshirted as frosh last year.

Clark played running back and defensive end for Columbus Junction. He was second-team all-state as a junior, first-team as a senior. He gained over 3,400 yards (sevenyard average) in his career, once had a 98-yard scrimmage scamper.

He earned 14 letters there four each in football and track and three each in basketball and baseball. He had a 42.1-yard punting average as a senior, set the school shot put record with 51-10. Yes, he also was class valedictorian. Columbus Junction's Frank Merriwell, you might say. His major is math education.

"Iowa State and a lot of smaller schools tried to recruit me, too," Clark says, "but living 35 miles away, I've always been a Hawkeye."

Craig's always been a "gym rat," too, as his father, Lyle, is a high school coach. He was born when his family lived at Panora and Lyle coached at nearby Guthrie Center.

"Dad is an assistant coach at Columbus Junction, and he's coached almost everything," Craig says. "My older brother, Chuck, played at Luther and now is an assistant coach at Marion High. Dad grew up in Minnesota and played for Bemidji State."

His mother works for a printing company at Muscatine. An older sister, Barb, teaches in the Los Angeles area. Another sister. Brenda, is a senior at Columbus Junction, participating in volleyball, basketball, track and softball.

Craig is a 6-3, 220-pound frosh (soph academically) with 4.7 speed at 40 yards. You may be reading a lot about him the next three

Cowboy comeback

• Oklahoma State's latest hope in an attempt to dethrone Iowa's NCAA wrestling champions is named Joe Seay. He was appointed the Cowboys' head coach earlier this year after leading California State-Bakersfield to seven Division II titles in nine years.

"There is no real pressure," Seay says. "I haven't been told, 'Beat Iowa or you're gone.' We can't be fooling ourselves. We don't have any defending champions back, and our highest returning All-American finished fourth.

"I'm just going to work hard to make Oklahoma State representative of championship-caliber wrestling. I look at this as an opportunity to coach at a higher level. It's a new ballgame from Division II."

Oklahoma State's hopes rocketed each of the last two seasons when its team defeated Iowa in dual meets - 27-23 in 1983 and 24-6 in 1984 — but then the Hawkeyes charged back to win the NCAA championships. The next Iowa-Oklahoma State meet will be Feb. 16 at Iowa City. The Cowboys have won 14 NCAA titles to Iowa's nine, but they haven't capture one for 14 years.

straight trip to the Class 3A playoffs Friday night, whipping Wamac Conference foe Anamosa, 42-14.

Coach Dave Messerli's Indians will play at Pleasant Valley in a first-round playoff game Wednesday night. The only team to make more consecutive playoff appearances was Emmetsburg from 1974 to '81.

Among the other 12 Gazette area teams advancing Friday night were Solon, Clarence-Lowden and Western Dubuque, all gaining their first Joining them were Cedar Rapids Washington, Oelwein, Decorah, Wapsie Valley, Mount Vernon, Sigourney, Center Point, Pekin Packwood and Lone Tree.

Cedar Rapids Washington locked up at least a tie for the Mississippi Valley Conference title Friday night with a win at Dubuque Senior, thus assuring the Warriors of an automatic berth in the 4A field. Washington will be making its seventh playoff appearance.

Western Dubuque, a 10-7 winner in overtime over Waterloo East Friday night, was one of four area teams to qualify in Class 3A. Western Dubuque will open the playoffs against Waterloo Columbus in the UNI-Dome.

Decorah, which topped Waukon, earned its fourth trip to the playoffs, but its first since 1978. The Vikings won the 1974 state title.

Joining Solon in Class 2A were Wapsie Valley, Mount Vernon and Sigourney. Mount Vernon, the East Iowa Hawkeye Conference champs, had wrapped up its sixth playoff berth last week.

Mount Vernon and Solon have been paired for a first-round game Wednesday at Solon.

Sigourney will be making its first appearance since winning a state title in 1979. The Savages will meet Louisa-Muscatine at home.

Wapsie Valley, which will participate in its fourth playoffs, will take on Denver at the UNI-Dome Wednesday.

Clarence-Lowden earned its first trip to the playoffs with a 35-6 rout travel to LeGrand to play LDF Wednesday.

Joining Clarence-Lowden in the 1A field were Center Point and Pekin Packwood.

Center Point, which blanked Alburnett 34-0, will be making its fifth playoff appearance. The Pointers, who last appeared in post-season play in 1980, are winless in their four previous playoff games. They will play at Tripoli Wednesday.

Pekin Packwood will be trying to win its third straight state championship. Pekin, a 41-0 winner over Highland Friday, also finished second in 1975 and 1977 and owns a remarkable 10-2 playoff record.

The lone Class A area qualifier was Lone Tree, which completed its regular season with a 32-16 victory over Louisa-Muscatine.

High school boys basketball divided into 4 classes

By The Gazette and Associated Press

BOONE - A fourth class will be added in boys basketball for the upcoming season, the governing board of the Iowa High School Athletic Association decided Friday. The move affects more than 30 Gazette-area

Without discussion, the IHSAA's Board of Control voted unanimously to make the change, which means an additional eight teams will qualify for the state tournament in March. It also means the tournament will run one day longer.

The board acted after the state's smallest schools - those in Class 1A - voted overwhelmingly in favor of splitting that group into two classes.

UNDER THE NEW setup, there will be 64 schools in Class 3A, 96 in 2A, 130 in 1A and 194 in the new Class A. Knoxville, with an enrollment of 469, will be the smallest 3A school; Wapello, which has 202 students, will be the smallest 2A school; and Kingsley-Pierson, with 122 students, will be the smallest in 1A.

That format is similar to those already in place for baseball and track. The additional class means the state tournament, which has been a five-day affair in the past, will take six days to play and on two of those days, there will be six games. The 324 schools that have made up Class

1A in previous years voted 275-23 in favor of adding another class. Five ballots were void. "This tremendously resounding vote should indicate a desire for change to take place," said Bernie Saggau, executive secretary of the IHSAA.

The state tournament, which will have eight teams in each class, will open at Veterans Auditorium in Des Moines on Monday, March THE CLASS A AND 1A championship games will be played Friday night, with the 2A and 3A finals set for Saturday night. All four consolation games will be played during the day Saturday, starting at 10:30 a.m. Saggau said officials from 80 or 85 schools included comments about the four-class system with their ballots. Most commended the IHSAA for its move, he said.

"A few were negative," Saggau added. "A few said, 'Why'd you wait so long? You should have done this a long time ago.' A couple said it would water down the tournament, but the vast majority were positive.'

Boys basketball was a one-class operation until the 1966-67 season, when it was divided into Class AA and A. It became a three-class sport in 1974-75. Under the new classification, Waukon, with 472 students, moves up a class from 2A to 3A. Oelwein (467 students) moves down a class to 2A, while West Branch (211) moves up a notch to 2A.

Four Gazette-area teams have fallen from 2A to 1A: Wapsie Valley (200 students), North Linn (197), Wilton (193) and Sigourney

Injured Gill will sit out Hawks' game at Indiana

IOWA CITY (AP) - Fullback Owen Gill was not on the team plane and apparently will miss Iowa's football game at Indiana today because of an injury suffered in the Hawkeyes' 26-0 victory over Michigan last week.

Gill, Iowa's second-leading rusher with 514 yards, has a bruised kidney. Coach Hayden Fry would not confirm the injury, but other team sources did.

In Gill's absence, Tim Sennott or Fred Bush would start. Bush had been the starting fullback before being injured. When he got hurt, Gill was moved to fullback from tailback and Ronnie Harmon was made the No. 1 tailback.

Fry has said the combination of Gill, Harmon and quarterback Chuck Long could be the best backfield in the nation. The three make up a potent offense for an Iowa team which has a 5-2 record and is tied for the Big Ten Conference lead with Ohio State at

Jefferson

After sacking Dixon three times on the first series, the J-Hawks set up their first touchdown when they converged on the Cougar junior for the fourth time. Dixon fumbled after an 11-yard loss, Brian Bos recovered and ran 29 yards to the Kennedy 13.

Two plays later, Randy Meier bolted through the Kennedy defense for a nine-yard touchdown run. The first of four Mark Tiedtke extrapoint kicks put Jefferson in front 7-0 with 7:07 left in the first. Jefferson junior quarterback Matt Usher, the game's leading rusher with 77 yards on 14 carries, increased the lead to 14-0 on a 10-yard run around left end with 3:22 left in the period. A minute later, Jefferson defensive back Gary Feaker cut in front of Kennedy receiver Paul Goode, intercepted Dixon's pass and raced 23 yards for a touchdown.

Tiedtke's 61-yard punt to the Kennedy one-yard line eventually afforded the J-Hawks another scoring opportunity midway through the third period.

After stopping the Cougars on downs, Jefferson drove 31 yards in seven plays and took a 28-0 lead on Dave Dighton's two-yard plunge.

Usher's rushing set up a threeyard Dighton touchdown run with 9:22 remaining, giving Jefferson a 35-0 cushion. Usher carried five times for 52 yards in the six-play

Back-up Jefferson quárterback Larry Thomas, a transfer from Kennedy, capped the scoring on a 15-yard run around left end with 6:07 left.

Kennedy never penetrated past Jefferson's 20-yard line, despite occasional effective passing from Dixon. He completed 13 of 27 passes for 152 yards, including five for 60 yards to Brad Pospisil.

'Hawkeye Insights' investigation ends

The Big Ten Conference has completed its investigation of a course offered at the University of Iowa, and will report its findings to the league's faculty representatives at a meeting Tuesday. John D. Dewey, an assistant commissioner with the Big Ten, refused Friday to discuss what - if any - action will be taken against Iowa, or what the Big Ten has found. The course, entitled "Individual Instruction in Educational Administration," was taught by Prof. Bradley Loomer of the College of Educational Administration. Loomer resigned from Iowa's Board in Control of Athletics after it was learned that six Hawkeye basketball players received credit for unfinished work in the course, also known as "Hawkeye Insights."

Sam Becker, men's faculty representative at Iowa, told The Gazette Friday that he does not expect the university will be handed much of a penalty, if any.

"That is for others to judge, of course," Becker said, "but I feel it is in our favor that the university took action on the Hawkeye Insights thing a year before the problem received publicity and was brought to the attention of the Big Ten."

Dewey said the Big Ten will report its findings to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the governing body of college sports. He said Tuesday's meeting, at an unspecified location, will be closed, and no public statement will be issued.

"When everything is final, then we'll report on it," he said.

of the season," said Senior Coach Rogert Bentley. "We told the kids at the half that we just had to go out there and re-eastablish ourselves.

"I felt very good about our second half, both offensively and defensively." Gary McCall got the Warriors off to a flying start with a 31-yard return of the opening kickoff, to the Rams' 47.

Wash scored on Dave Stewart's 3yard off-tackle slant seven plays later. Bill O'Donnell accounted for 38 vards in the drive, en route to a total of 156 on 38 carries. With five minutes left in quarter, linebacker Jeff Frieden recovered the first of three fumbles Senior lost, at the Senior 39. Two plays later, Wash quarterback Adrian Davis fired a perfect pass to Marcus Irvin for 33 yards and a TD. Then a breakdown in the Warriors' punt coverage enabled swift 155-pounder Tony Callahan to escape for a 68-yard scoring scamper down the right sideline, and the game at 14-7 with 1:05 left in the first period. Wash came right back to score on O'Donnell's 22-yard charge over left tackle, terminating a 58-yard march. the Warriors on the board again by scooping up a Senior fumble and dashing 11 yards into the end zone. Midway through the period, the Warriors drove 42 yards to the Senior 15, only to be thwarted by an illegal-block penalty. A third-down interference call gave Senior new life on what turned out to be a 70-yard TD march opening the third period.

Tim McDonald scored from the 3. then caught Shawn Cantrell's 2point conversion pass, cutting Wash's lead to 28-15.

The Warriors reached the Rams' 14 late in the third period, but ran out of gas there, and Kevin Tann's field goal try was wide. Wash finally wrapped it up when Davis' 32-yard pass to Steve Bjorn-and Stewart went in from the 2 two plays later, with 1:50 to play. Cantrell connected on a 26-yard pass to Pete Weber, then hit Callahan from 25 yards out for the sen put the Warriors at the Senior 1,

Rams' final score, with 1:16 left. The Rams recovered their onside Rams were quickly back in the kick, but Cantrell's passes got them only to the Wash 38 before the game ended.

Davis connected on 14 of 28 passes for 136 yards. Mike Franklin averaged 42.8 yards on five punts, And 26 seconds later, Frieden put one for 58 yards.
