Talking sports,
ad nauseam

Some people like driving. The rest of us just want to get there.

Woody Hayes used to say three things can happen when you pass the football, and two of them are bad. I say a million things can happen to you when you drive, and only one isn't bad.

The one good thing is getting to your destination without aggravation. But even when that happens, a long drive can drag. So you switch on the radio.

Music is nice, but how many times in a lifetime can a person hear "Stairway to Heaven" without snapping? Human voices, talking about something or another, can help take your mind off many hours remain in a trip.

Thanks to out-of-state football trips this fall, I've found the radio airwaves more crammed with sports babble than ever. Spin that dial on a weekend night, and you'll find sports talk, sports talk, sports talk.

That isn't necessarily a good thing.

It seems every major city has an all-sports radio station. This started in New York City a few years ago, and spread like a disease.

Minneapolis-St. Paul has one that offers amazingly trivial programming at times. Heading home from a Vikings game in September, I heard part of an hour-long show in which a man who publishes a fantasy-football newsletter (but clearly had no radio training) read statistics from that day's NFL boxscores.

En route to last Saturday's Ohio State-Wisconsin football clash, I flipped to a Madison station that was airing a pre-game show. That was around 10:30 a.m., and I had joined the show in progress. Game time was 2:30 p.m.

I got rid of that in time to catch first-quarter "action" of the Florida State-Maryland mismatch on a Chicago station. Another flip found a talk show with a report from the Breeders' Cup, two hours before the first post.

Michael Feldman's "What Do You Know?" comedy show on public radio never sounded better than that morning.

NOWHERE IS SPORTS talk-radio more prevalent than Chicago. First, all-sports station WSCR (The Score) came along. Recently, WLUP-AM went from rock to sports and changed its call letters to WMVP. Around the same time, all-news WMAQ-AM turned its nighttime programming over to sports talk. And WGN-AM has long featured sports talk on weekends.

I don't think I've ever heard a female call one of those shows. Score one for sisterhood.

Many callers have brilliant trade proposals that are almost always tilted in favor of a Chicago team. Others have ingenious advice for coaches, like throwing more screen passes.

Most say anything, no matter how unsubstantiated or absurd. Have you ever known a knowledgeable, sensible person who said this:

"Please excuse me, but I have to go call a talk show."

Those programs do serve a purpose, though. They are cheap programming for the stations. Even in big cities, unfortunately, many hosts lack the personality or credentials to give a show substance. They usually are either sycophants, egomaniacs or both. WSCR always seems to have at least one co-host who is doing a bad imitation of the "Da Bears" guys from "Saturday Night Live."

None of this is to suggest that sports talk shows can't be entertaining or informative. When you're stuck in a car for a few hours, tuning in such a show (and it certainly doesn't have to be on sports) is better than finding money under sofa cushions.

The tricks are to have an authoritative, personable host with relevant guests, and to make callers ask direct questions to the guests instead of just spewing hot air.

One of the best things about sports is they're easy to understand and discuss with others. Sooner or later, though, you'd like some light to go with the heat.

City High, Dwight drop Dogs

By Jeff Dahn
Gazette sportswriter

BETTENDORF — Prep football fans have been wondering all season what would happen if City High's Tim Dwight ever got to play a complete game.

They found out Monday night.

Dwight, everybody's all-American, carried 40 times for 244 yards and scored four touchdowns to lead Class 4A second-ranked City High past No. 1 Bettendorf, 27-17, in a playoff quarterfinal game in front of an estimated 10,000 fans at TouVelle Stadium.

PLAYOFFS

City High (11-0) will face Cedar Rapids Kennedy (8-3) in a 4A semifinal Saturday at Iowa City.

The Bulldogs, two-time defending state champions, had a 30-game win streak snapped and bowed out at 10-1.

"I can't express this feeling," an elated City High Coach Larry Brown said. "We worked so hard for this. We've been to the playoffs six times and this is the first time we've gotten past this round. It's a tremendous feeling."

Dwight was also tremendous, smashing through, dragging and jumping over would-be tacklers as he raced to his season-high single game rushing total.

"(Bettendorf) came out and played a good ballgame," Dwight said, "but this was our year. We decided to go for it all this year."

But Bettendorf earned Dwight's respect.

"They hit hard," he said, shaking his head.

Dwight's TD runs covered 5, 3, 3, and 1 yards. The three-time defending state champion in the 200-meter dash also broke through for dashes of 34, 26 and 13 yards.

While Dwight was running wild, the physical City High defense pretty much kept Bettendorf in check. The Bulldogs totaled only 218 yards, including 149 on the ground.

"I think our defensive line really set the tone," City High tackle Erik Nelson said. "We went out on a limb tonight, baby."

football playoffs.

The Cougars (8-3) earned a spot in the semifinals Saturday afternoon against No. 2-ranked Iowa City High, a 27-17 winner at top-ranked Bettendorf. The semifinal will be in Iowa City at 1:30 p.m.

City High defeated Kennedy in the season opener at Kingston Stadium, 42-20, but that was far from Cougar Coach Don Knock's mind.

"All right!" he said. "We're just happy to still be practicing. What you have to overcome when you come to Linn-Mar is tradition, and it's more mental than physical."

Three-time state champion Linn-Mar was in the playoffs for the ninth straight season. Kennedy is in the post-season for the fourth year in a row, but had never advanced past the quarterfinals.

The Cougars won with a punishing ground game that netted 223 yards, and the main man was 5-foot-8 junior Jimmy Bassett.

Bassett, who made a splash for Kennedy at mid-season with 220 yards rushing at Dubuque Wahlert, sliced and slashed and darted his way to 121 yards on 29 carries against the Lions. He opened the scoring on a 5-yard run with 11:19 left in the first half.

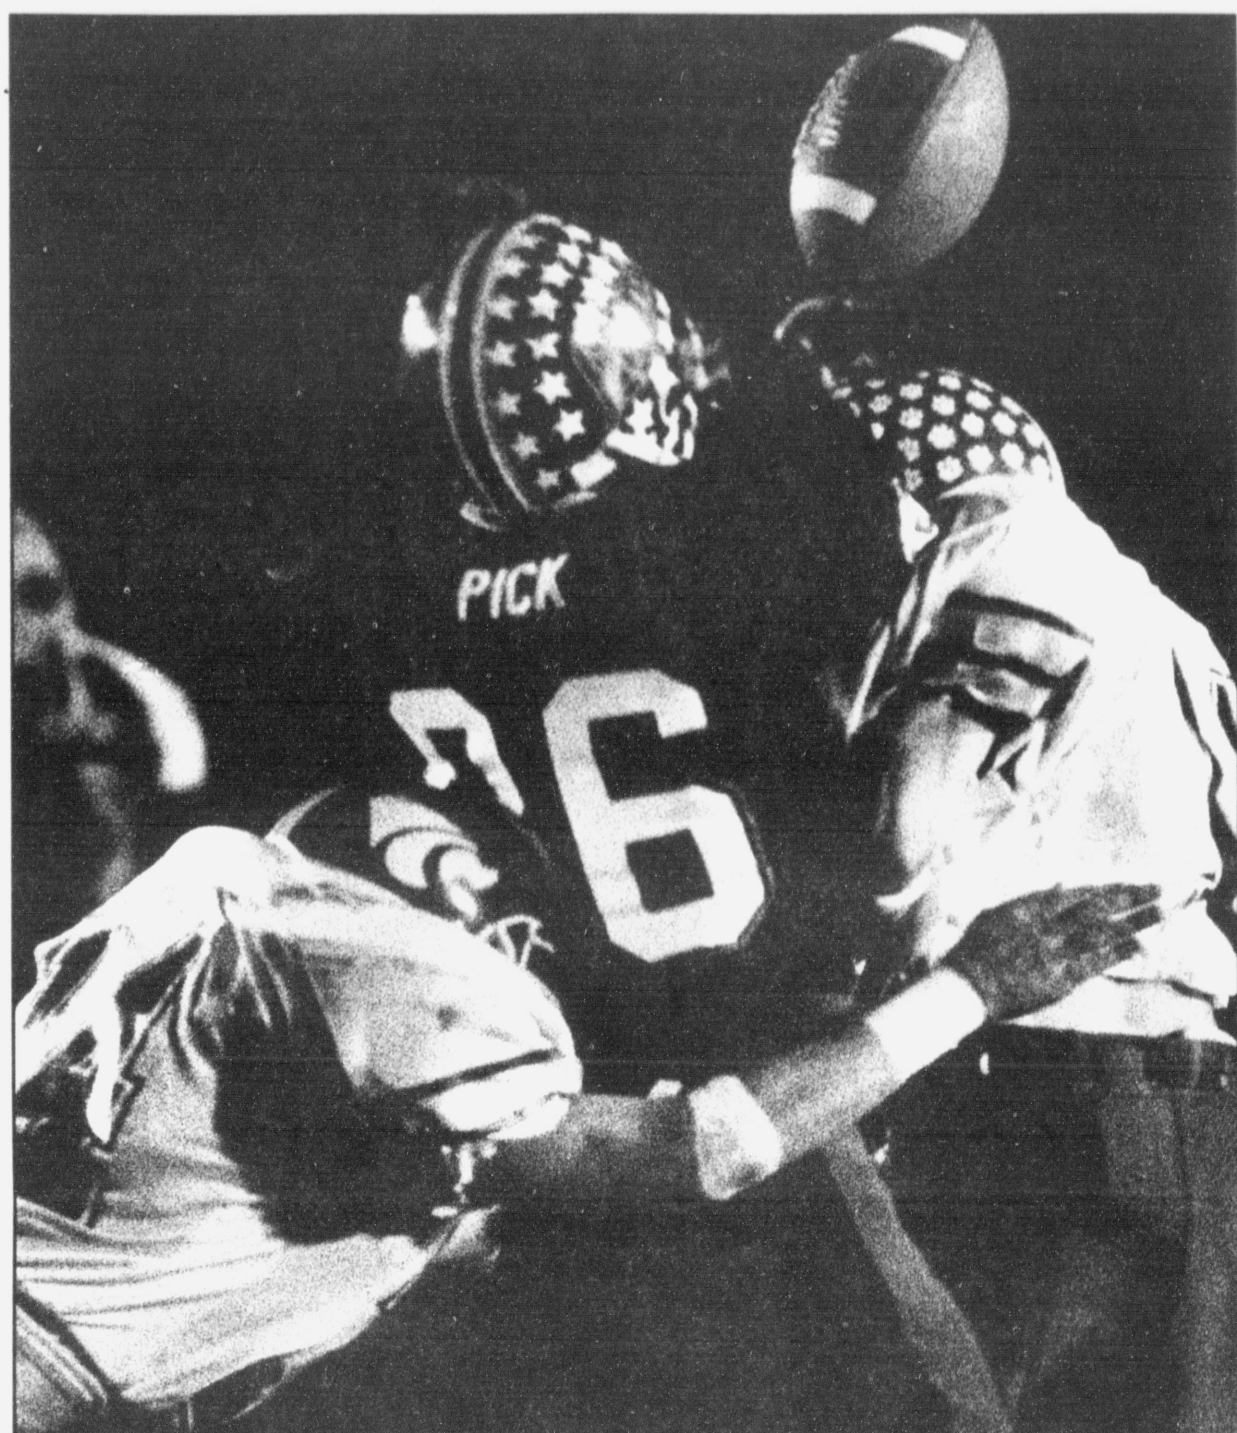

"We felt we would run the football well," Knock said. "Maybe I was a little too conservative compared to last week. The offensive line came on so well."

Linn-Mar tied the game at halftime on Matt Pelusi's 1-yard dash with 4:50 left in the second quarter. It capped a 15-play, 89-yard drive, kept alive by a face mask penalty on Kennedy when the Cougars sacked Linn-Mar quarterback Jamie Hubler on third down.

Both teams missed field goals on their first possession of the second half.

ISU's Booth earns honor

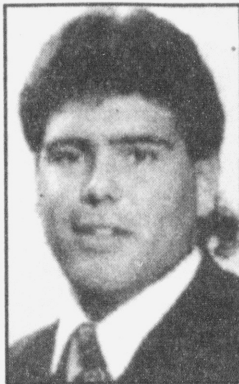

By Mike Koolbeck
Gazette sportswriter

Iowa State center Tony Booth grabbed more than the first reception of his college career in last Saturday's 27-23 upset of 18th-ranked Kansas State.

Booth, a former Cedar Rapids Kennedy prep, also nabbed offensive player of the week honors from the Big Eight, the conference announced Monday.

Besides his big catch, which kept alive Iowa State's drive for the go-ahead touchdown, Booth also had a big day blocking.

by injuries, Iowa State put together three scoring drives covering 177 yards and 30 plays. Twenty of those plays were run through the middle of the line, behind the 282-pound Booth, and they produced 121 yards and two touchdowns.

Kansas State had allowed only 164 yards rushing and one play of 10 yards or more in its previous two games, against Colorado and Oklahoma. Iowa State, which totaled 222 yards rushing, had nine running plays of 10 yards or more and four of those were fullback dives behind Booth.

"Tony just really picked it up, blocking against what I thought was one of the better defensive fronts," Iowa State Coach Jim Walden said. "Then to be so heads up to catch a pass, that was just frosting on the cake."

Booth is the first lineman to earn the offensive award since Nebraska's John McCormick was honored in October 1987.

Chiefs halt streaking Packers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — With no Joe Montana, the Kansas City Chiefs needed the defense to provide some offense. So nose tackle Dan Saleaumua took over where the injured Montana left off.

Saleaumua ran 16 yards for a touchdown early in the third quarter with a fumble stripped by Derrick Thomas from Brett Favre to set the Chiefs off on a 17-point run that gave them a 23-16 victory over Green Bay on Monday night.

Then the 6-foot, 300-pounder forced a fumble by Darrell Thompson that Tracy Rogers recovered in the end zone just as the Packers threatened to go ahead with just under six minutes left. An interception by Martin Bayless, Kansas City's third of the game, ended Green Bay's final threat with 1:40 left.

The victory kept the Chiefs (6-2) in first place in the NFC West and ended a three-game winning streak for the Packers (4-4).

But it wasn't easy.

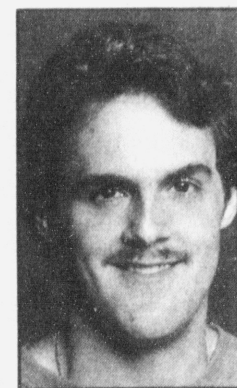

The Kansas City offense was limited to just 60 yards in the half and could have gone off trailing by more than the 9-3 score by which the Packers led. In fact, the defense produced those points, a 23-yard field goal by Nick Lowery set up by Kevin Ross' interception and 48-yard return.

Green Bay, meanwhile, failed on a first and goal from the 2 when Thomas forced a third down fumble and chose to kick a field goal on fourth down from the Kansas City 1 in the final minute of the half and settled for Chris Jacke's field goals of 23, 51 and 19 yards.

Then, on Green Bay's first offensive play after interception, Thomas broke behind Favre and swiped at the ball, knocking it straight at the feet of Saleaumua. He grabbed it like a shortstop and rambled 16 yards to give the Chiefs the lead.

Dave Krieg, subbing while Montana rested his pulled hamstring, was 17 of 30 for 170 yards and was sacked four times, three by former Northern Iowa standout Bryce Paup.

Hawkeyes earn No. 2 seed

IOWA CITY — The University of Iowa field hockey team (17-3, 8-2) has earned its 17th consecutive post-season bid and will make its 12th straight NCAA tournament appearance.

The Hawkeyes, the No. 2 seed in the 12-team tournament, received a first-round bye and will host the winner of the Northwestern/California matchup in the regional championship, Sunday at noon at Grant Field.

Northwestern will host California Thursday.

Each regional champion advances to the final four Nov. 20-21 at Rutgers University.

The Hawkeyes have a 19-12 record in NCAA postseason competition. They claimed the national title in 1986.

Wathan hooks up with Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Former Kansas City Royals manager John Wathan was one of three new coaches appointed Monday by the Boston Red Sox, who finished in fifth place in the AL East last season.

The club appointed Wathan, a Cedar Rapids native, as bullpen coach, Mike Roarke as pitching coach and Frank White as first base coach. They replace three recently fired coaches — pitching coach Rich Gale, first base coach Al Bumbry and third base coach Rick Burleson.

Gary Allenson will move from bullpen coach to third base coach.

Wathan spent the last two seasons as third base coach, interim manager and bench coach with the California Angels.

Iowa City High's Rob Thein (34) and Jesse Fisher (33) congratulate Brian Mitchell, who recovered a first-half fumble Friday night during the No. 2 Little Hawks' 27-17 Class 4A quarterfinal victory over No. 1 Bettendorf at Bettendorf.

City High: Downs top-rated Bettendorf

■ From page 1D

Bettendorf took a 3-0 lead when Matt Schara booted a 34-yard field goal with 4:35 left in the first quarter. It marked the first time all season City High trailed in a game.

It wouldn't trail for long.

The Little Hawks took over first-and-10 on their own 27 with 4:20 left in the first period, and with Dwight carrying 10 times for 72 yards, the Little Hawks marched 73 yards in 11 plays for their first TD.

Dwight plowed straight ahead for the final yard with 10:40 left in the first half.

Bettendorf was forced to punt on its next two possessions, and City High took over on its own 34 with 1:42 left.

On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Zach Grabinski located Joe Cilek wide open at downfield, and Cilek hauled in the pass for a 43-yard gain.

Dwight ran 5 yards and Rob Thein went 15 off a fake reverse to Dwight to give the Little Hawks first-and-goal at 5. Dwight covered those 5 yards untouched, and after a missed

PAT attempt by Matt Gabel, it was 13-3 Little Hawks at half-time.

Dwight carried 18 times for 120 yards in the first half. Disaster struck the Little Hawks at the outset of the second half.

Thein bobbled the opening kickoff at his 10-yard line, and in desperation tried to lateral to Dwight. The ball was free, and Bettendorf recovered on the City High 9.

Fullback Paul Harnung went straight ahead off a trap on the next play, covering the 9 yards and bringing Bettendorf within 3 at 13-10.

City High bounced back on its next possession, going 65 yards on 11 plays for a Dwight touchdown with 5:57 left in the third quarter.

A lengthy Bettendorf drive that started on its own 32 stalled on the City High 10-yard line 12 plays later. Facing a 4th-and-goal on the 10, Bulldog Coach Merv Habenight opted to go for the TD, but a Scott Longval pass was batted down at the goal line by City High's Matt Lamb.

"I could have grabbed it, but I knew it was fourth down," Lamb said. "We were expecting the pass. We knew they'd go for it all."

With Dwight leading the way, City High marched back down field to score again with 7:31 left in the game. Bettendorf finished the scoring when Harnung went in from a yard out with 4:05 left.

"We knew we had to suck-it-up and do it tonight," Dwight said. "We all played with big hearts tonight."

on Bassett — he had carried 22 times midway through the third period — Knock went to a play he said he intended to call in the first half.

Quarterback Brad Kellogg handed off to Bassett going right. Bassett handed to Igram, who got outside the Linn-Mar defense and raced down the sidelines for his sixth touchdown.

"We meant to run it in the first half, but the situation never presented itself," Knock said.

Igram, one of the fastest football players in the Metro area, has scored three of the four times Knock has called "46 reverse."

"Bassett was running real well with the counters and the power traps. The line was doing a great job," Igram said. "We wanted to offset the defense with a reverse or something.

"IT FEELS GREAT. All week we wanted this so bad. It seems like we've come together more at the end of the season. Losing (quarterback) Scott O'Shea was a big blow, but it's brought us together."

Linn-Mar Coach Greg Purnell, 18-7 in the postseason, applauded

Kennedy's rushing attack.

"I'd like to congratulate Kennedy. They did a good job in crucial situations," he said. "I knew they'd be able to run the ball. They're so physical up front and with their tight splits, it was hard to penetrate against guys 20, 30 pounds heavier.

"But it wasn't the defense. It was that we were unable to take advantage of opportunities on offense."

LINN-MAR'S main opportunity came when Kennedy fumbled the second-half kickoff, giving the Lions possession at the 25. Two plays put Linn-Mar at the Kennedy 15, but that was it. Ryan Turner's 32-yard field goal attempt was wide left.

Kennedy's defense held Linn-Mar below its season averages across the board. The Lions had 122 yards rushing, 59 passing.

Kennedy defensive backs played particularly well, and linemen Mike Piccetti, Ryan Poyneer and Matt Purington had sacks.

Pelusi had 86 yards rushing for Linn-Mar. He finished the season with 938 yards and 17 touchdowns.

Big plays lift Mount Vernon

By Scott Wingert
Gazette sportswriter

MOUNT VERNON — Give Jared Pospisil a couple of yards, and he'll take the whole field.

Pospisil zipped 90 yards on a touchdown run and ran a kickoff back 80 yards for another Monday to let Mount Vernon defeat Sigourney-Keota, 14-13, in a Class 2A quarterfinal football game.

The Mustangs escaped with the victory after Sigourney-Keota was stopped short on a 2-point conversion try after a touchdown with 5:40 to play.

"I had huge holes," said Pospisil. "The team played great, and it feels good getting there."

Mount Vernon (10-1) advances to the semifinals against Iowa Falls at 8:45 p.m. Friday in the UNI-Dome at Cedar Falls. Sigourney-Keota closed at 8-3.

The Savages controlled the ball for much of the game with a spinning, cross-bucking maneuvers off their single-wing offense that produced 17 first downs and controlled the clock for long stretches.

Down 7-0 at halftime, the Savages tied the game with 11:24 to play when John Willhour hit Chad Sheetz with a 25-yard scoring pass on third-and-9.

Pospisil, though, grabbed the ensuing kickoff on a hop almost at full speed and zipped 80 yards untouched up the middle for a touchdown.

Sigourney-Keota wasn't through, though. Sticking with spins and pitches, the Savages embarked on a 15-play, 58-yard scoring drive. It was capped by a 3-yard jump pass from spin-back Heath Lyle to Sheetz on fourth down with 5:40 left.

Sigourney-Keota went for two with Ryan Schauf around the left side, but he was stopped by a host of Mustangs. The first to make the play was Vance Ellison.

Sigourney-Keota never got the ball back as Mount Vernon ran 10 plays and collected three first downs to run out the clock.

"We were on the ropes a lot," said Mount Vernon Coach Jim Bellamy. "We had to reach down and keep fighting and we did. I'm very proud of this team."

The Savages' spins and cross-bucks worked all night, but they fumbled six times and lost two of them.

Sigourney-Keota's first miscue was especially costly. The Savages opened the game by driving 65 yards — with 16 runs and one pass — to the Mustangs' 1-yard line before Lyle fumbled just before crossing the goal. Mount Vernon's Scott Pospisil recovered.

CLASS 2A

The Mustangs went three plays and out, and Billy Studt managed just a 17-yard punt to put the Savages in business again at the Mount Vernon 28.

Willhour hit Greg Hammes with an 18-yard pass on fourth-and-12 to the Mustang 12, but Mount Vernon stiffened from there and held Sigourney-Keota on downs.

Then Mount Vernon, which managed just four offensive plays in the first quarter, got Pospisil loose on its second play from scrimmage in the second quarter.

Pospisil took a wide pitch to the left from Aaron Kaalberg, cut back through the line and down the sideline. He cut back across the field in front of the last defender at midfield and won the race to the right corner of the end zone.

Mount Vernon had an excellent opportunity to add to its lead when Sigourney-Keota punter Josh Stull fumbled the exchange deep in Savage territory, but Kaalberg fumbled away a pitch a short time later to snuff that drive.

Ellison opened the second half for Mount Vernon by returning the kickoff 70 yards to the Sigourney-Keota 15, but that effort was called back by a penalty.

Sigourney-Keota held on downs, but Studt got Mount Vernon out of trouble with a 51-yard punt.

The Mustangs got the ball back quickly and drove as far as the Sigourney-Keota 15, but Rick Arenas later missed a 38-yard field goal attempt.

Sigourney-Keota was again held on downs, but Luke McDermott mishandled a punt to give the ball back to the Savages. Three plays later Willhour, off play action, found Sheetz open over the middle for the touchdown.

Three Savage backs — Jeremy Geil, Lyle and Todd Bell — combined for 210 rushing yards on 50 carries.

Pospisil led Mount Vernon with 138 yards on 14 carries.

West Branch stunned, 27-19

By Bob Hilton

WEST BRANCH — Columbus Junction ended a two-year West Branch reign as Iowa Class 1A prep football champion Monday night, 27-19.

The Bears' loss snapped the state's longest winning streak at 36 games. The Wildcats' post-game chant was "36 no more, 36 no more."

Columbus Junction advances with an 11-0 record and will play Aplington-Parkersburg Friday at 6:15 p.m. in the UNI-Dome.

West Branch bows out at 10-1.

In the most recent of its four previous playoff appearances, in 1991, Columbus Junction held a 20-15 halftime lead over visiting West Branch, then lost that first-round game, 29-26.

This was the sixth playoff for West Branch. The Bears were seeking their third 1A title in four seasons.

Columbus Junction, holding a 13-6 halftime lead, lost a fumble at its 37 two plays into the third period, and Jason Laszczak promptly took Ryan Gordon's shovel pass 32 yards to set up the touchdown Gordon got on a bootleg from the 3 three plays later.

Brad Yanacek's extra-point kick tied it with 9:19 left in the period.

But the Wildcats responded with a 47-yard TD drive launched by Jeff Mohror's 31-yard pass to Ben Williams on 4th-and-11 at the Columbus Junction 42.

Mark Shellmyer made a leaping catch of Mohror's 4th-and-3 end zone pass, and Bob O'Donnell's kick gave the Wildcats the lead for good, 20-13.

Penalized for a clip on the ensuing kickoff, West Branch went 79 yards to score on Gordon's 9-yard fourth-down pass to Jeremy Clayton in the right corner of the end zone.

West Delaware coasts into semifinals, 42-14

By Jeff Johnson
Gazette sportswriter

MANCHESTER — It took a few years to get it, but West Delaware celebrated its first home playoff football game in grand style Monday night.

Mark Weaver completed 17 of 30 passes for 244 yards and two touchdowns and Randy Salow scored three touchdowns to lead the third-ranked Hawks over Maquoketa, 42-14, in a Class 3A quarterfinal at Brown Field.

West Delaware (10-1), the 1991 state champion in its sixth playoff, advances to a 3A semifinal Saturday afternoon against Mount Pleasant at the UNI-Dome. Maquoketa, making its first playoff appearance, ended the season 7-4.

"We're real happy to finally get one at home," West Delaware Coach Dave Jacobson said. "I guess the state heard our concern, and we're sure glad they did."

West Delaware defeated Maquoketa, 21-6, during the regular season, and Jacobson had expressed concern about the rematch.

That worry turned out to be unwarranted.

"If you look back historically, I think 75 percent of the time in past games that the team that lost the first game usually wins the second one. I just wanted to stress that point to the kids because I think a lot of times teams let their guard down and think 'Well we beat them before, we can beat them again.'"

"I think it's obvious Maquoketa has improved by leaps and bounds this year, but boy, so have the Hawks. We came out with our offensive machine, and I think tonight our defense was the thing that won the ballgame for us, because we shut them down at key times."

"They're a helluva' football team. Anybody that watched the game could see that," Maquoketa Coach Mark Hillebrand said of West Delaware. "You show me a better football team than those guys. I said it would take a good team to beat us, and they're a good team. I don't know what 4A's got, but that damn Weaver can throw the football."

Weaver hit seven passes in a row at one point in the second half and completed passes to eight different receivers in the game.

"If there's a better quarterback in the state, I'd sure like to see him," Jacobson said.

Maquoketa took the opening kickoff and marched 89 yards on 16 plays to take a 6-0 lead.

Mike Gilmore culminated the near six-minute drive with a 3-yard touchdown gallop around left end off an option play. Maquoketa successfully converted on three third-down plays in the drive and one fourth-down play, an 18-yard screen pass to fullback Jamie Wahl that immediately preceded Gilmore's score.

THE CARDINALS were assessed a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the TD play, and failed on a two-point conversion pass from the 25-yard line.

West Delaware took the ensuing kickoff and went 66 yards in 17 plays to take a 7-6 lead.

Weaver hit 5-of-7 passes in the five-minute drive.
