Brown, Yankees push Twins to brink

New York can put wrap on series today

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) -Kevin Brown already apologized to the New York Yankees for his foolish injury. This was an even better way to make up for it.

Backed by Derek Jeter's three RBIs and a relentless

UNI ATHLETICS

Ceremony

for new UNI arena is today

Groundbreaking for McLeod Center has finally arrived

By Jim Ecker The Gazette

It's taken a long time, but they'll finally stick a shovel in the ground today and start building an arena at the University of Northern Iowa.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the McLeod Center is at 2:15 p.m. in the south parking lot next to the UNI-Dome, where the arena will be built.

"It's a pretty exciting time," said Rick Hartzell, UNI's director of athletics. "I think it's one of the biggest days in the history of Division I athletics at UNI. It will be fun." The McLeod Center, tentatively sched-uled to open in the fall of 2006, will become the Panthers' home for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and wrestling. It also will host concerts, shows and special events.

Northern Iowa director of athletics

The price tag is $23.1 million, according to Hartzell, but could change pending final decisions on a Hall of Fame area, plaza and kitchen. The school has raised about $21 million, with a lead gift of $4 million from Clark and Mary McLeod of rural Cedar Rapids.

The arena will have 6,300 permanent seats, with total capacity at 7,000 to 7,100 with temporary bleachers, suites and standing room.

The men's basketball team has played in the UNI-Dome since it opened in 1976, but the cavernous structure has not been a cozy environment for fans or a particularly hostile environment for opponents.

"The UNI-Dome is a fabulous facility for football and track, but it's not such a fabulous facility for basketball," Hartzell said. "Basketball was kind of an afterthought in the UNI-Dome."

The women's basketball, volleyball and wrestling teams have held most events in the West Gym, an old, cramped facility on campus that holds a few thousand fans. The men's basketball team has played there at times, too.

In two more years, all of those teams can say good-bye to the West Gym and UNI-Dome and say hello to a

Marion has control

Indians roll past Anamosa, take lead in district standings

> By Jeff Dahn The Gazette

MARION — The fact the Marion football team now controls its own destiny over the final three weeks of the regular season wasn't lost on the happy band of Indians last night.

"The district title is in our hands," junior Ben Messerli said.

"This is just one more step toward the promised land," junior Nick Cannavo

Positive thoughts always come out of big victories, and the Indians certainly got one at jam-packed Thomas Park.

Marion, held scoreless and limited to 71 total yards in the first half, came out and smoked Anamosa with 27 unanswered points in the second half, and beat fifth-ranked Class 3A Raiders, 27-10, in front of a throng estimated at 4,000

Marion improved to 5-1 overall with its fourth straight win, but more importantly, the Indians moved to 4-0 in 3A District 4 and are the only remaining unbeaten team. Anamosa dipped to 5-1, 3-1.

"This is a great win over a good football team," Marion Coach Tony Perkins said. "I think we had a wake-up call at halftime. We put it on the backs of our offensive linemen to come out and dominate (Anamosa's) defensive line, and they did that."

Warriors have many happy returns in win

Rhone, O'Meara take kicks back for scores in victory

> By Jeff Johnson The Gazette

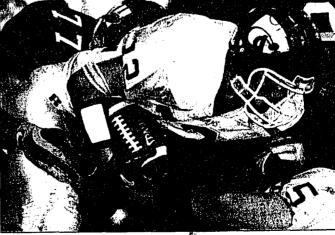

CEDAR RAPIDS — If Cedar Rapids Kennedy's football team wouldn't have had to kick off, maybe it would have beaten Cedar Rapids Washington last night. But the Cougars did, and as a result they didn't.

Travis Rhone took back a first-half kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown, and Paki O'Meara began a 25-point second-half rally with a 95yard kickoff return for a score as Washington literally ran past its eastside rival, 32-17, on a picture-per-fect fall evening at Kingston Stadium.

You can talk about Washington's stout second-half defense — it allowed 58 yards — and its potent sec-ond-half offense — it produced 200 yards. But Kennedy Coach Tim Lewis pointed right at the Warriors' two return touchdowns as the biggest keys to the game.

"Big plays," Lewis said. "It was one of those deals where we told our kids all week that we did not want to let the ball get into the hands of Rhone or O'Meara. Those returns are two plays, just two plays. But

CEDAR RAPIDS — You can't spell Xavier without an "I," but you'll never hear the Saints bragging about themselves after a high school football game.

It's not their style.

Xavier stuffed Cedar Rapids Jefferson, 38-0, at Saints Field last night, then tripped over themselves as they thanked the scout team, the assistant coaches, the weight-room guy and everyone else.

"It's a total team effort," Coach Duane Schulte said after the Saints squared their record at 3-3.

The Saints were nearly perfect during that span.

"It really wasn't about us, though," said Zach. "The line made the holes and it was easy to run."

Schulte quickly cleared his bench. Nobody in his starting backfield took a snap in the second half, and his top defenders played only one series in the third quarter.

The second half went quickly with the running clock, which goes into effect with a 35-point lead. The J-Hawks collected 79 yards in the third and fourth periods to finish with 77 yards for the game.

Jefferson had only one first down in the first half. It came on a 15-yard penalty against Xavier for pass inter-

Taylor Lynch, an all-state soccer player, gave Xavier a 17-0 lead in the first quarter when he blasted a 48yard field goal, setting a school record. Typically, Lynch credited the Scott Schemmel, for making it happen, and thanked the coaches for calling his number.

"They just wanted to give me a shot, I guess," he said.
"He's not an all-state soccer player for nothing," Schulte said.

Iowa State could use a place-kicker like Lynch, but he's leaning toward playing soccer in college and apparently is not interested in kicking a football before big crowds.

"I'm more of a small-town type of person," he said. "That wouldn't go real well, with thousands of people. I'd rather know everyone's name."

The Saints will have to run the table against Dubuque Senior, Prairie and Iowa City West to kept their playoff hopes alive.

"You've got to believe," Schulte said. "That's why you're in it." ■ Contact the writer: (319) 368-8697 or snapper, Andy Knapp, and his holder, jim.ecker@gazettecommunications.com

"We went into the locker room at halftime, and the coaches told us we were a family and we had to come out a lot harder," Rhone said. "They said the person who came out the hardest in the second half was going to win.'

"There was a tremendous difference in the second half," said Washington Coach Paul James. "We challenged them at halftime, defensively and offensively. The coaches made some great adjustments, but I thought the way we played, a lot of credit has to go to how hard the kids played.'

Kennedy was limited to three first downs in the second half, and Meier was held to 51 second-half rushing yards. Washington linebackers Bryce Buchanan and Justin Reed each came up with late fourth-quarter interceptions of Thompson passes to cement the victory.

"We came out defensively in the second half like a family. We came out here strong and we stayed together," Reed said.

Evans' 2 TD catches propel City High

Little Hawks edge Lions on homecoming

> By Barry Pump News correspondent

IOWA CITY - Ben Evans had two 30-plus-yard catches last night for back-to-back touchdowns as Iowa City High pulled out a 28-21 homecoming football victory over Mississippi Valley Conference rival Linn-Mar at Frank Banks field.

"It makes my job easier when I have a receiver like Ben Evans," said Little Hawks quarterback D.P. Eyman. "He deserves a lot of kudos for those catches. He made some great plays.

Eyman was 9 of 15 for 163 yards and had a hand in all the scoring for City High. He had an 8-yard run to even the score at 14 to end the third quarter before he really took matters into his own hands in the fourth with the two TDs to Evans.

"I'm really fortunate to have such good weapons," City High Coach Dan Sabers said. "D.P. can do it all. He can change plays if he needs to and he has good feet too."

The game was evenly matched through the first half. City High struck first with 11:52 in the second half on a 15-yard pass from Eyman to Dorian Davis. The even matchup continued on the next drive when Blake Zundel connected with Nick Erdman for a 16-yard pass to tie the game 7-7 at the For Linn-Mar, Beau Evans had 24 carries for 132 yards, continuing to lead the best offense in the MVP. Jeremy Tipton and Jack Dugger each added 46 yards and Matt Greer had 53 on the night. Linn-Mar quarterback

Blake Zundel went 19-for-21 with a last-minute interception that sealed the Lions' Phil Kenney led City High's running attack with 21 carries for 132 yards. Eyman had 80 yards on the ground. Kenney also led the passing attack with three receptions for 43 yards. Considering the Little Hawks' first loss of the season came last week, Eyman and Sabers agreed this game was an important confidence boost.

"This was a big game for us," Eyman said. "We knew it was going to be close."

City High (5-1) travels Prairie next week. Linn-Mar (3-3) hosts C.R. Washington.
