New natural grass field to be installed after UNI game

> By Tyler Lechtenberg The Gazette

CITY shouldn't have spent all that time adjusting your television. The Kinnick Stadium turf really was that bad.

After Iowa and Ball State turned the middle of the field into a collection of divots Saturday, the Iowa Athletics Department has decided to replace the turf after the Iowa-UNI game Sept. 17, Athletics Director Bob Bowlsby told the Presidential Committee on Athletics at its meeting Thursday.

The grass turf will be torn up and replaced with a natural grass surface in a procedure that should take five or six days, Bowlsby said. Iowa's first home game after UNI two weeks later, Oct. 1 against Illinois.

The university contem plated a switch to artificial turf but opted against it. Grass is about one-third the cost of an artificial surface, Bowlsby said.

"Our coach and players really would prefer grass," Bowlsby said.

The 2005 season would have been the eighth full year of football on that turf. Bowlsby said most grass surfaces have a six or seven-year life cycle. Already halfway through an $87 million stadium renovation, Bowlsby said Iowa hoped to get an extra year out of the turf.

It didn't happen, thanks in part to this summer's heat, which Bowlsby said included 45 days of 90 degrees or more.

Odds and ends

 Football season-ticket holders will receive "priority points" for next year's tickets in October, Associate Athletics Director Mark Jennings

Re-seating will be announced in November. Jennings said the ticket office expects 150 calls a day for 100 days.

• Bowlsby said graduation rates will be announced this month, and Iowa appears to have had an "excellent" year.

• The Hawkeye Express train to Kinnick Stadium had 3,400 riders for the Ball State game, up from last year's average from about 3,000, Jennings said.

Winning the Cy-Hawk Trophy is always a joyous celebration, just as it was last year in Kinnick Stadium when lowa held off lowa State, 17-10, for its second straight victory in the intrastate series. From left are Clinton Solomon (88), Jovon Johnson (26) and George Lewis (50). This year's version of the state's "Super Bowl" is Saturday in Ames.

ISU wide receiver has wealth of knowledge in quarterback's ways

> By Jim Ecker The Gazette

- Austin Flynn promises he won't flap his arms in disgust or stomp his feet if he's open for a touchdown pass Saturday and Bret Meyer doesn't see him.

Perhaps more than any receiver in America, Flynn understands how hard it is for a quarterback to sift through the clutter and find his target. He's been there, done

"I've been on the other end of the spectrum," he said, "and I understand what it's like, and that you can't see sometimes.

Flynn was a quarterback all his life. In backyard games in Texas, peewee ball, junior high, high school, three years of college. With just one game as a receiver, he's tied for third in the Big 12 Conference after catching seven passes against Illinois State last Saturday night.

"It pleased me," Flynn Flynn said, "but at the same time, I thought I really worked hard during the offseason, so I don't think it really surprised me. I just have a lot of hope.

Cedar Rapids Kennedy's Cordale Baker avoids a diving tackle attempt by Cedar Rapids Prairie's Colin Dietrich on his way to a touchdown in the first half last night at Kingston Stadium in Cedar Rapids. Kennedy won its second straight overtime game, 14-13.

Speedy Baker leads Cougars past Prairie

Kennedy senior's 7-yard run seals overtime victory

By Jeff Dahn The Gazette CEDAR RAPIDS football coaching staff at Cedar Rapids Kennedy knew track sprinter Cordale Baker possessed outstanding speed. The question was how to best utilize it.

Head Coach Tim Lewis may have answered that question last night.

Baker, a slight 5-foot-8, 150pound senior, scored Kennedy's only touchdown in regulation on a 20-yard run, then sprinted in from 7 yards out in the first overtime period to lead the Cougars past Class 4A fifth-ranked Cedar Rapids Prairie, 14-13, at cool and damp Kingston Stadium.

Back-up kicker Mitch Crandall kicked the wobbly PAT that determined the final score, but it was the running of Baker and Luke Dolan, the scrambling of quarterback Matt Carey and strong defensive play that led the Cougars (2-0) to their second overtime win of the season.

These first two weeks have been nail-biters, but we pulled them out as a team."

The Cougars beat Xavier, 16-13, in overtime last week.

Baker finished with 80 yards on seven carries, mosty on inside handoffs and end-arounds. He easily complemented the bruising power-running of Dolan and the fleet feet of Carey.

"Coach knew since I had a lot of speed, I might be able to get to the outside," Baker said after joining his teammates in a rousing rendition of "The Hokey Pokey" in the winners' locker room. "These first two weeks have been nail-biters, but we pulled them out as a team.'

It was a game of missed opportunities on both sides, with Prairie (1-1) missing a 26-yard field goal late in regulation and its PAT attempt in and headed toward the final stretch, he liked his kick. Williamson scampered away over the last quarter-mile and won the boys' individual championship at the Cedar Rapids Invitational cross country meet Thursday. The senior from Cedar Rapids Kennedy was timed in 16:28, four seconds ahead of Iowa earlier. "I'm really surprised I've won two races. This is all new to me." Here's something else new: City High did not rule the boys' team race.

City High's Mike Shoemaker. "I'm ecstatic," said Williamson, who prevailed at the Prairie Invitational nine days

Pleasant Valley won the title with 73 points, followed by Dubuque Wahlert (89) and Kennedy (92). City High, which had won 14 consecutive titles at this meet, settled for fifth Thursday. It wasn't a complete washout for City, though. The Little Hawks outran Iowa City

"It doesn't guarantee anything, but it gives

West, 62-71, for the girls' championship.

us confidence that we can run with anybody in the state," said City High girls' coach Tom Mittman. "We'll celebrate today, but we'll have to refocus, because we know West will come at us harder than ever next time.' Brittany Dlhy led the Little Hawks' effort with a runner-up finish. The sophomore moved up steadily throughout the race and clocked a 15:04, one second behind Kelsey Bulat of Pleasant Valley, who successfully defended her title. "About a mile into the race, I started to go after (the leaders)," Dlhy said. "I just felt good today. I was in a good mood out there.'

West's Sarah Wickman, Cedar Rapids Xavi-er's Meaghan Nelson and City's Samantha Sidwell rounded out the top five. Nelson led the Saints to a third-place team finish. Thursday's races began shortly after a heavy rain ended.

"I didn't want to think about the possibility whose time was 20 seconds better than he ran at Noelridge a year ago. Williamson got into the front cluster quickly. By the halfway mark, he and Shoemaker separated themselves from the pack. And that we might not run," said Williamson,
