

Utley blasts 2 homers as Phillies capture Game 5, 8-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Put those parade plans on hold, New York. The Phillies are coming back.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Chase Utley hit two home runs to raise his World Series total to a record-tying five, backing Cliff Lee once again as Philadelphia staved off elimination with an 8-6 victory last night and set up a Game 6 for the first time since 2003.

Utley hit a go-ahead, three-run homer in the first inning off A.J. Burnett and added a solo shot in the seventh to join Reggie Jackson as the only players to hit five home runs in a single World Series.

Philadelphia closed within three games to two by replicating its winning formula from the opener, when Utley hit two solo homers and Lee pitched a six-hitter. Raul Ibanez set off fireworks from the Liberty Bell one last time, adding a second solo shot in the seventh off Phil Coke that made it 8-2.

Lee gave up a run-scoring single to Alex Rodriguez in the first inning but settled in until

A-Rod chased him with a two-run double in the eighth. Robinson Cano drove in Rodriguez with a sacrifice fly, and New York gave Philadelphia a scare when Jorge Posada doubled and Hideki Matsui singled at the start of the ninth against Ryan Madson.

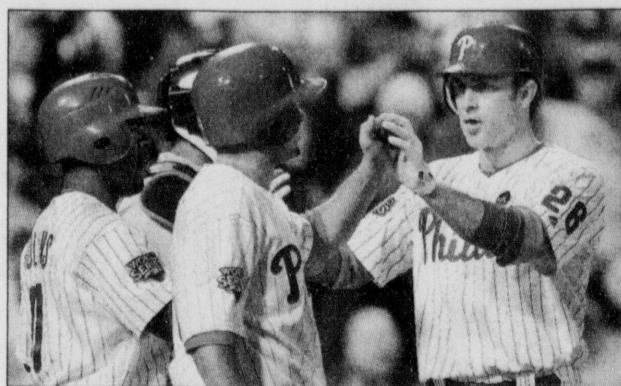

Derek Jeter hit into a run-scoring double play, Johnny Damon singled and Madson struck out slumping Mark Teixeira for the save.

The Yankees, who have won the Series all eight previous times they took a 3-1 lead, will try to close out title No. 27 on Wednesday night at home. Game 3 winner Andy Pettitte is expected to come back on three days' rest and face Game 2 loser Pedro Martinez.

Pitching on short rest didn't work well for Burnett, who had been 4-0 previously in his career on three days' off and kept the Phillies off balance in Game 2.

He kept falling behind batters and allowed six runs, four hits and four walks in two-plus innings, his shortest start since his first outing in 2007.

Philadelphia's Chase Utley (right) is congratulated by Jimmy Rollins (left) and Shane Victorino after hitting a three-run home run in the first inning of Game 5 of the World Series last night in Philadelphia. Utley hit another homer later in the game as the Phillies stayed alive in the series with an 8-6 win.

Northwestern quarterback Mike Kafka runs with the ball as Penn State's Sean Lee closes in during Saturday's 34-10 loss to the Nittany Lions last Saturday in Evanston, Ill. Kafka left the game in the second quarter with a hamstring injury but said Monday he plans to start this Saturday's game at Iowa.

Northwestern QB declares himself good to go for Iowa

By Marc Morehouse
The Gazette

Mike Kafka's left hamstring received a ton of attention Monday. And it should, as it's carried Northwestern's offense all season.

The numbers show that Kafka and his hamstring are a pretty big deal for Northwestern (5-4, 2-3 Big Ten) as it prepares for No. 8 Iowa (9-0, 5-0).

The senior quarterback is Northwestern's offense. Kafka is responsible for 69.6 percent of NU's yardage, accounting for 2,443 of 3,415 yards. He played less than half the game in the Wildcats' 34-13 loss to Penn State on Saturday and still tied his backup, Dan Persa, for the NU lead in rushing last week with 42 yards.

He's Northwestern's leading rusher with 248 yards and six touchdowns. Even though he played less than a half Saturday, he remains the Big Ten's leader in total offense and passing yardage.

He grabbed his left leg after a run in the second quarter last week and didn't return.

Monday, NU Coach Pat Fitzgerald said he expects Kafka, a 6-foot-3, 215-pounder, to be ready for the Hawkeyes.

"We expect him to go through some things in practice and hopefully a little bit more on Wednesday, but at this point we expect Mike to play," Fitzgerald said.

Kafka, who leads the Big Ten in completions (23.7 a game) and completion percentage (66.8), stayed on message Monday.

"My mindset's going in that I'm going in and playing," Kafka said. "It feels pretty good. (Tuesday) I'll run around a little bit on it and see how it feels and kind of take it day-by-day. And Wednesday do a little bit more where on Saturday it feels pretty good."

Xavier hammers Linn-Mar

Saints bottle up Garman, Lions in first-round rout at Armstrong Field, 41-3

By Jeff Linder
The Gazette

MARION — If this was the swan song for Armstrong Field, the Xavier Saints made sure it would end on a sour note.

From their perspective, sour was sweet.

No. 8 Xavier dominated from start to finish and punished No. 7 Linn-Mar, 41-3, in a Class 4A first-round football playoff in front of nearly 6,000 last night.

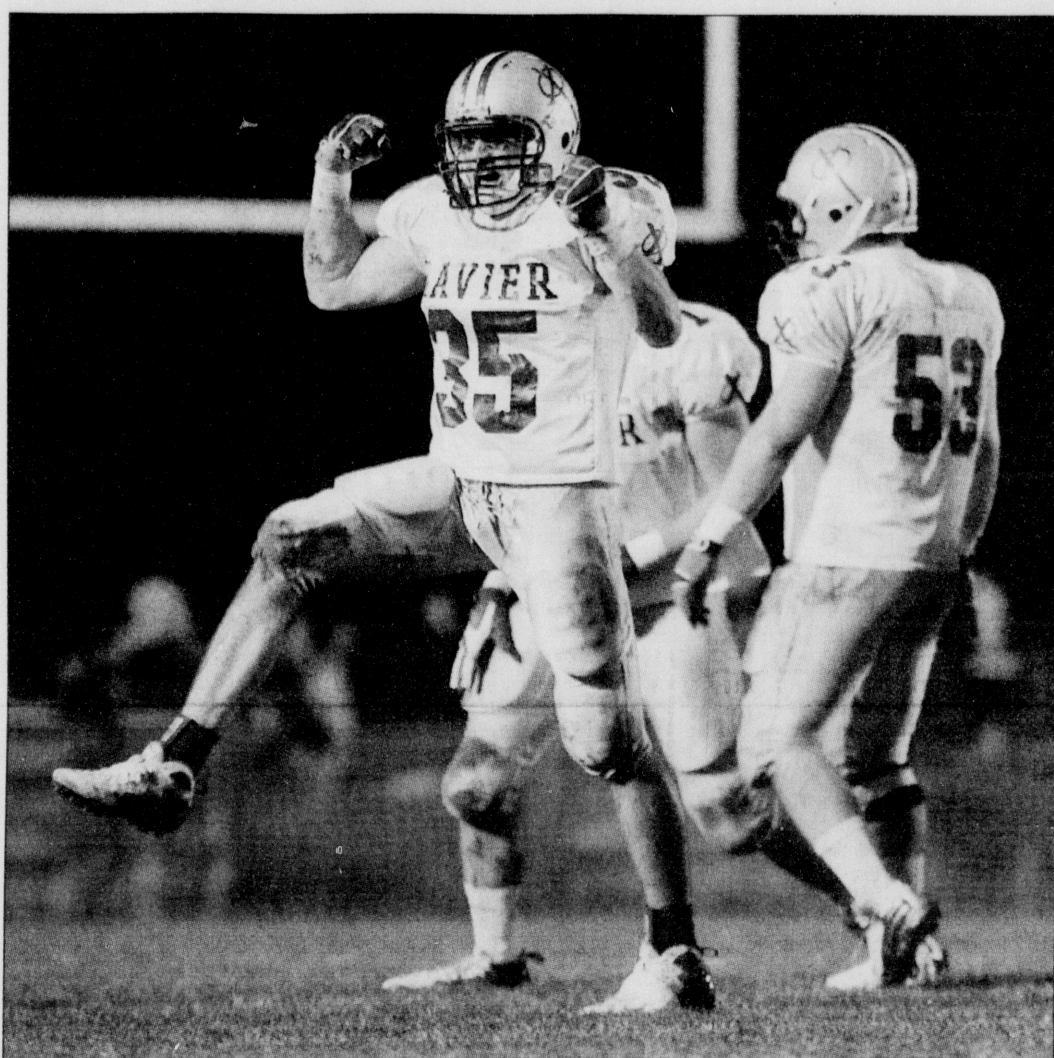

"We were definitely pumped up," said linebacker Nick Garland, who spearheaded a defensive unit that held Lions running back Jer Garman to 32 rushing yards. "We didn't want to disappoint our crowd. We wanted to keep it rolling."

Speaking of rolling, the Saints (9-2) won their eighth straight game. They'll travel to Clinton (11-0) — a 37-23 winner over Cedar Falls — in a quarterfinal Friday.

Xavier Coach Duane Schulte wasn't looking ahead as the continuous clock ran. He was mourning a friend. Bob Erusha, longtime supporter of Cedar Rapids Catholic schools, died Saturday.

"Without him, I don't think there is a Xavier High School," Schulte said. "The kids were thinking about him a lot."

Whatever their focus, it was effective. The Saints

Dawson runs wild, Warriors look to rematch with City

By Nick Pugliese
The Gazette

CEDAR RAPIDS — The last time Cedar Rapids Washington played Iowa City High, well, let's allow Warriors' Coach Tony Lombardi to explain what happened. "They beat the crap out of us."

Moments after Washington defeated Cedar Rapids Kennedy, 16-3, last night at chilly Kingston Stadium, Lombardi was thinking about Friday night's rematch at Bates Field, site of top-ranked City High's 65-21 defeat of Washington Sept. 4. When the teams battle again in a Class 4A State quarterfinal, things might not be the same.

"Our scheme is different, our defense is different," Lombardi said. "We were still finding ourselves. But (City High) is a great team. They clearly are the class of the eastern side of the state."

Going to the head of the class last night was Andre Dawson, who rushed for 222 yards on 44 carries to go

Derby, Chelf spark Little Hawks to 24-7 win over Hempstead

By Scott Dochterman
The Gazette

IOWA CITY — Iowa City High needed a jolt midway through the second quarter last night. As the Little Hawks have done all year, they called on quarterback A.J. Derby and wide receiver John Chelf to provide them with one.

With a seven-point lead and facing a second-and-6 at the Dubuque Hempstead 41, the Little Hawks ran a play-action fake against the boxed-in Hempstead defense. Derby then hit Chelf up the right sideline, past Hempstead cornerback Alex Brown for a 41-yard touchdown pass and a two-touchdown lead. The top-ranked Little Hawks maintained its momentum to beat the Mustangs, 24-7, at Bates Field in a Class 4A state first-round game.

"We felt we could get them over the top on a play action, so we just called it," Chelf said. "A.J. threw a good ball over the defender right into my hands and right in the end zone."

"They kind of switch up their defenses but he (Brown) was playing up tight," Derby said. "We ran a play action and got it over the top and got a touchdown."

Hempstead stacked the line to stop the Little Hawks' running attack, which led to the play call and, ultimately, the touchdown.

"Obviously, we're a power team," Iowa City High Coach Dan Sabers said. "If teams are going to (stack the line), hey, we've got John Chelf out there one-on-one against guys. John's pretty good. So we feel very fortunate to have that situation, and A.J. throws a deep ball as good as anybody."

Decorah picks off No. 4 Marion in 2 OTs

By K.J. Pilcher
The Gazette

MARION — Prep football fans at Thomas Park last night got their money's worth. And Decorah senior Robby Jewell gave the Vikings fans a little extra.

Jewell picked off Marion quarterback Dalton Combs in the second overtime to secure Decorah's double-overtime 37-30 upset of No. 4 Marion in a Class 3A first-round playoff game at Thomas Park.

The teams spilled every ounce of effort they had.

"We said we were going to leave it all out on the field," Jewell said. "We left it all out there and won the game. The was the toughest game we played all year. It's the most fun I've had in a football game."

Jewell stepped in front of a pass across the middle to deny Marion a chance to tie the game after Lucas Kane gave the Vikings a 37-30 lead on a 2-yard run in the second overtime. Jewell read the quarterback's eyes and made a play on the pass.

"I kind of stepped right in front of him and picked the ball like I'm supposed to," Jewell said. "I thought I'm going to get that ball and I'm not going to let him have it."

Marion took the first lead in overtime on two Logan Pickering runs, the second a 2-yard TD for his third score of the night.

He gave the Indians a 7-0 lead with a 1-yard run on the opening drive and added a 14-yard run in the third quarter to put Marion up 23-16. Pickering finished with 156 yards rushing and 65 receiving yards.

"Logan's played outstanding all year," Marion Coach Tony Perkins said. "He's a quality kid and a quality athlete and he has that type of game every week."

Decorah, which seemed to win the line battle, answered Pickering's OT score with Collin White's 3-yard TD run to force a second overtime.

Decorah trailed 23-20 when the Vikings marched 58 yards to set up Cody Sacquitne's 38-yard field goal to tie it. Before that drive, Marion had held them without a first down after halftime.

"We've been in several games over the course of the year that have been close in the fourth quarter," Decorah Coach Bill Post said. "The guys just keep battling and keep fighting and they get it done. They believe in themselves."

WHAT?

THE HLIST

A look over the shoulder at the football weekend
Mike Hlas
The Gazette

From nationwide sources and replay officials, who are likely to overturn the entire Hlist on a whim

OPENING KICKOFF

"I had trouble seeing. And it smelled." — Oregon Coach Chip Kelly, who donned the Oregon mascot's duck head and appeared on ESPN's "GameDay" show Saturday morning in Eugene.

It probably smelled like roses that night when the Ducks ambushed USC, 47-20, to become the Pac-10's leading candidate to represent the league in the Rose Bowl.

FIRST DOWNS

1. Illini Regain Fight: Things have gone badly for Illinois since its Rose Bowl season of 2007, but it will always have Michigan.

For the second straight year, the Illini trounced the Wolverines. This year it was 38-13 in Champaign.

"In the north stands," wrote Loren Tate of the Champaign News-Gazette, "the young men with the 'Fire Zook' grocery bags over their heads changed to 'Hire Zook' in the fourth quarter."

It was only Illinois' second home win over Michigan in 52 years, and the Illini's first win in their last 10 games against FBS opposition.

"We have talked about how you need to believe and have faith," Illinois Coach Ron Zook said. "Faith keeps fighting, and we are the Fighting Illini."

2. Flag Football: Minnesota set school records for penalties (17) and penalty yards (157) Saturday night. Yet, the Gophers defeated Michigan State, 42-34.

They had a good reason to keep battling. This win was dedicated to standout wide receiver Eric Decker, whose college career ended last week because of torn foot ligaments.

"I wanted to have a game where we gave Eric Decker the game ball," Minnesota quarterback Adam Weber said. Weber threw five touchdown passes. He had no TD passes and five interceptions in his previous three games.

Minnesota is 5-4, and has home games left with Illinois and South Dakota. The Gophers could end up going to the Alamo Bowl. If that happens, the Hlist thinks the San Antonio game will be convinced it did the right thing ending its affiliation with the Big Ten after this season.

FUMBLES

1. Blue Funk: Michigan began the year with four wins. It beat Notre Dame. "Go Blue!" was heard again in Ann Arbor after last season's 3-9 disaster in Rich Rodriguez's first year as the Wolverines' coach.

Well, Michigan is now 5-4 and back in a funk. A one-sided loss to the likes of Illinois isn't what Wolverines football of the last half-century has been all about.

"We just got a lot of things to fix and get right," Rodriguez said.

Associated Press college football writer Ralph D. Russo isn't impressed with the Rich-Rod regime.

"It seems almost weekly that television cameras catch a glimpse of (Michigan) coaches yelling at each other on the sideline," Russo wrote. "That might not mean a thing, but it does make a bad situation look worse."

2. USC Quacks Up: USC's quest for an eighth straight Pac-10 title probably got snuffed with its 47-20 loss at Oregon.

The Ducks trampled the Trojans with 613 yards, 391 of them rushing.

"That was a real mess," said USC Coach Pete Carroll. "We got beat up," said safety Taylor Mays.

"We just got destroyed," said linebacker Michael Morgan.

"They gained seven or eight yards a carry on bad plays for them," Carroll said.

Oregon quarterback Jeremiah Masoli tried to put it in perspective.

"No one can really hang with us in the league and across the nation," he said.

over the 2,000 mark for the season. Although there were concerns about Dawson's sore knee before the game, the senior running back put the Warriors (9-2) on the scoreboard midway through the first quarter with a 32-yard TD run on a fourth-and-5 burst up the middle.

"They call me the horse and I galloped right to the end zone," Dawson said. "The offensive line did a great job opening big holes tonight."

Dawson was amazed to learn he had all those carries and said he was sore. "Some running backs don't get that many carries in two games," he said. "But I didn't mind it. Like they say, the ball isn't that heavy."

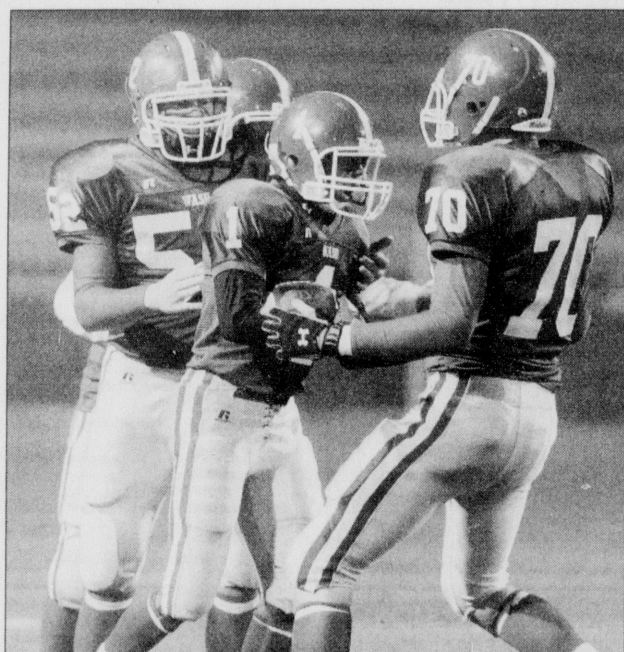

Washington came out with some heavy-duty psyche when the Warriors warmed up in their traditional red jerseys and returned to the field wearing blue jerseys. Meanwhile, Kennedy (5-6) was feeling black and blue afterward, not only from attempting to stop Dawson but also from trying to move the ball against the swarming Warriors' defense.

"Our defense played terrific," Lombardi said.

Kennedy's only attempt at cracking the scoreboard in the first half was snuffed when Adam Sailor blocked Eric Boyer's 45-yard field goal attempt with 2:29 to play in the opening quarter. Boyer later made a 26-yarder to cap Kennedy's first drive of the second half and cut the lead to 13 points — but the Cougars got no closer.

yards and stopped Kennedy 8 of 9 times on third-down possessions.

Behind Dawson's running, and aided by a personal foul penalty, Washington drove 61 yards on 12 plays to up its lead to 9-0 on Trent Buchanan's 26-yard field goal with 2:41 left to halftime. After forcing a three-and-out Kennedy punt, Washington struck quickly on a Shay Gutman to Ronnie Henderson 63-yard TD pass for the 16-point halftime lead. Henderson caught a quick slant and outraced the secondary with 33.6 seconds on the clock.

Coach: W. Delaware just needs to relax

By Jeff Linder
The Gazette

Take a deep breath. Relax.

That's the advice Brett Mather will communicate to his team when seventh-rated West Delaware tangles with No. 6 Dubuque Wahlert in a Class 3A regional final volleyball match tonight at Maquoketa.

"We just need to go out, relax and play ball," Mather said.

Regional finals are tonight throughout the state in all four classes. Nine matches feature area teams. Two stand out.

One is the West Delaware-Wahlert battle. The other is a 4A encounter at Cedar Rapids Prairie, where No. 9 Linn-Mar (25-14) shoots for its first state berth against No. 5 Iowa City High (30-8).

"We've talked about (tonight) since last summer," said Linn-Mar Coach Rob Justis. "We've been looking forward to it all season long."

Elsewhere in 4A, No. 2 Iowa City West (36-2) takes on Pleasant Valley (18-12), No. 3 Cedar Rapids Kennedy (33-4) faces No. 10 Waterloo East (24-11) at Waterloo West and Cedar Rapids Xavier (19-

In other 3A matches, No. 5 Marion (35-9) — the defending state champion — meets Nevada (27-10) at Tama and Williamsburg (25-10) faces Fairfield (22-12) at Oskaloosa.

Class 2A top-rated Mount Vernon (38-1) meets West Branch (29-9) at Solon, and Springville (23-12) takes on No. 5 Don Bosco (23-9) in a 1A contest at Vinton.

West Delaware (28-7) is pursuing its sixth trip to state in seven seasons. This is a typical Hawk team, driven on defense.

"We're really good again at covering the floor and staying in points as long as possible," Mather said.

Down a class after finishing second in 3A in 2007 and 2008, Mount Vernon has rolled through regionals. Its last match, a sweep of West Marshall, lasted 50 minutes.

"We're playing well," said Coach Shirley Ryan. "But West Branch is the strongest it's ever been. They have some fine hitters. We expect it to be a battle."

Solon sweeps to quarterfinals with 38th straight

By Jeff Johnson
The Gazette

SOLON — So what's the most fun, James Morris? You get three choices.

Is it running for a touchdown, throwing a touchdown pass or putting a lick on an opposing player?

"I like making big hits," Morris said with little hesitation after helping the Solon Spartans to a 42-13 smackdown of Mid-Prairie in a Class 2A playoff first-round last night at Spartan Stadium. "That's kind of what I go for. But those other things are great, too."

Morris will play linebacker for the Iowa Hawkeyes, and it looks like he's going to be a good one.

But it's a treat to watch him do those other two things as well.

Taking snaps at quarterback and running back, Morris ran for 115 yards and a touchdown and threw a 51-yard TD bomb to Dean Klosterman as Solon (11-0) won its 38th straight game. The Spartans have another go with rival Iowa City Regina (10-1) in a 2A quarterfinal Friday night at Regina.

Solon won in the regular season, 42-7.

It'll be interesting to see how much QB Morris will play and how much Wes Sleeper will play. Sleeper had a 1-yard TD run as he continues his comeback from a midseason knee injury.

It's kind of pick your poison when you're playing the Spartans.

"I hate to say it this way, but we either get three, four, five yards a pop, or you can put a lot of people (in the box), and we can do what we want to do and get our athletes out in space," said Solon Coach Kevin Miller. "I feel we've got enough weapons to make it very difficult for an opponent."

Solon outgained Mid-Prairie, 386-162, holding standout Golden Hawks running back Tanner Miller to 60 yards on 10 carries.

The Spartans rolled to a 42-0 lead, getting big-play TDs from Derrick Loveless (a 41-yard motion sweep), Andy Ashton (a 49-yard run) and, of course, Morris, who hit Klosterman with a long pass in the final minute of the second quarter.

"That wasn't the prettiest pass, but it got the job done," Morris said.

IOWA STATE FOOTBALL

ISU offense should be at full strength for Cowboys

By Eric Peterson
News correspondent

AMES — Iowa State should have its top offensive unit on the field Saturday afternoon when it faces No. 18 Oklahoma State with bowl eligibility on the line.

Starting quarterback Austen Arnaud, out the last two games with a bruised throwing hand, is expected to be healthy.

Senior center Reggie Stephens, who had his 36-game starting streak snapped because of an inflamed appendix, says he'll be back in the lineup following emergency surgery last Wednesday.

"The doctors have assured us that nothing will spill out of the holes in his stomach," Coach Paul Rhoads joked Monday during his weekly press conference.

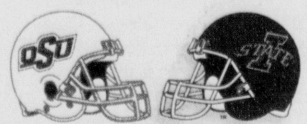

The Cyclone offense finally should be at full strength for the first time in weeks.

Points and yards have been hard to come by with red-shirt freshman quarterback Jerome Tiller filling in and tailback Alexander Robinson limited because of a groin injury.

ISU (5-4, 2-3 Big 12) has scored one touchdown each in games at Nebraska and Texas A&M. The Aggies won last Saturday by a score of 35-10.

"We are capable of a lot more," said receiver Marquis Hamilton. "I don't feel we are holding up our end. Hopefully we can turn things around."

This week's game

Arnaud's return will be key in doing that.

The junior started every game for the last year-and-a-half until two weeks ago at Nebraska. Arnaud banged his hand on a helmet early in ISU's Oct. 17 win over Baylor and sat out all but one series of the second half.

He's missed the last two games and the offense has suffered because of it.

"He's one of our leaders and the games have shown that we've played better when Austen is at quarterback," said receiver Darius Darks. "Austen has more game experience and a better feel for the offense."

That's not a knock on Tiller, who faced a stout Nebraska defense without Robinson and lined up at A&M behind a makeshift offensive line missing Stephens.

Those also were the first two starts of his career.

Arnaud could have played against the Aggies, but coaches felt like he didn't have the necessary zip on his passes. He should be able to throw the ball with more velocity against OSU, who is 6-2 overall and 3-1 in league games.

"The swelling is down and I'm able to grip it better," Arnaud said. "It's going to be a great feeling once I get that first hit and get involved again."

Rhoads thought Stephens may be lost for the year because of the surgery.

Center Mike Knapp had his appendix removed last season and missed almost a month. There were complications involved with Knapp, but, nevertheless, it is major surgery.

Stephens isn't as surprised with his quick recovery.

"We don't have to blow this out of proportion," Stephens told inquiring reporters. "I didn't break a bone or something. It's not that big of a deal."

The Cyclones opened Big 12 play averaging 445.6 yards and 27.7 points a game.

Those numbers have shrunk to 281.5 and 9.9 the last two weeks.

"Hopefully we can get back on track," Stephens said. "We were starting to get into a rhythm before Arnaud got hurt. Hopefully he (A-Rob) will get healthy and we can get back into a rhythm and pace that we were at before."

the final two-and-a-half quarters against PSU. The "or" usually has the better chance of starting, which was Persa. But Fitzgerald and Kafka blew right through that Monday.

"What happened was I kind of tweaked my hamstring a little bit," said Kafka, who has completed 213 of 319 for 2,195 yards, nine touchdowns and seven interceptions. "I think as far as going back in, I didn't think I could push off it."

"I was just honest with Coach Fitz and told him that I really just couldn't drop back and roll around and scramble like I really wanted to, so the best bet was putting Dan in. I think he did a great job."

Persa completed 14 of 23 for 115 yards. Still, with Kafka, the Wildcats led 10-3. Without him, Penn State ran away, outscoring the 'Cats 24-0 in the second half.

Penn State Coach Joe Paterno was asked about halftime adjustments.

"The adjustment we made is their quarterback got hurt," Paterno said.

"The depth chart is listed as 'or' and both guys are getting prepared to play," Fitzgerald said. "Mike and I just met again after going over some things and he's feel-

Iowa injury update

Junior safety Brett Greenwood wasn't listed on the weekly depth

Also, junior cornerback Amari Spivey was listed as the punt returner. He and freshman Keenan Davis fumbled punts against Indiana. Spivey's led to an IU touchdown just before halftime.
