Notre Dame takes responsibility for death

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Notre Dame's president sent an e-mail to students, faculty, staff and alumni Friday saying the school is responsible for a student videographer's death.

"Declan Sullivan was entrusted to our care, and we failed to keep him safe," the Rev. John Jenkins wrote. "We at Notre Dame and ultimately I, as President are responsible. Words cannot express our sorrow to the Sullivan family and to all involved."

Declan Sullivan, 20, a student videographer was killed Oct. 27 when a hydraulic lift he was on toppled while he was taping football practice in wind gusting to 51 mph.

The school and state regulators are investigating.

Rare pole position for Sadler in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas — Elliott Sadler won his first Sprint Cup pole in more than four years with a dominating run in Texas.

Sadler's lap of 195.397 around the high-banked 1-mile track Friday was nearly 2 mph better than front-row partner Greg Biffle.

Points leader Jimmie Johnson qualified 17th for Sunday's race. Cedar Rapids native Landon Cassill is 43rd.

Boyle living up to 'best-ever' accolades at Coe

Kohawk quarterback set to stamp his name firmly in record book

CEDAR RAPIDS — It was pointed out to Brad Boyle that he looks a lot like actor Ashton Kutcher.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

er. Sorry for that reference, Iowa Hawkeyes basketball fans.

"Naw, Kyle Korver," the Coe College quarterback replied, referring to the NBA basketball player from Pella (and Kutcher look-a-like). "I think I look more like him. I get that a lot."

The facial comparisons aren't the important part. It's all about game, and Ashton Korver-Boyle has plenty of that.

Going into Coe's game today against Buena Vista, the junior has more than 2,000 yards passing for a second consecutive season, one of only three Coe QBs to accomplish that. Barring injury, the former North Mahaska prep and last year's Iowa Conference MVP, will own most, if not all, career passing records at the school.

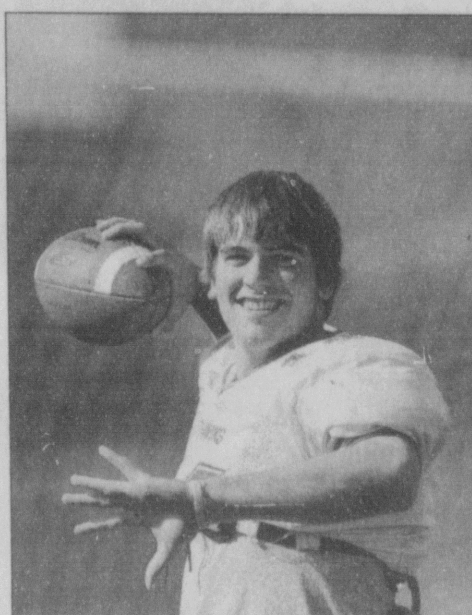

You get the term "best ever" thrown around a lot, but in this case it might fit.

"We've had some good ones here," Coe Coach Steve Staker said. "Tim Vinyard comes to mind. Guy Simons. I think Brad's got the potential to be one of the best ever. I really do."

"I guess I've never really seen any of the other quarterbacks (other) than Andy TeKippe," Boyle said, referring to Coe's assistant coach. "He actually recruited me. TeKippe was pretty good."

Sorry, Andy, but not as good as Boyle. At 6-foot-4 and 200 pounds, Boyle has the arm and smarts to throw the football all over the field and the size

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PLAYOFFS

City rules MVC; off to semis

Little Hawks strike early to rout Tigers, move on to Dome

By Jeff Johnson

The Gazette

IOWA CITY — Dan Sabers' postgame words to his Iowa City High football team said everything.

"You are the best team in the MVC," Sabers said in typical raspy voice to a bunch of whoops and hollers. "There's no question about that."

No question at all. A lightning-quick start and devastating ground game lifted the No. 2 Little Hawks to a 49-28 victory over No. 3 Cedar Falls in a Class 4A playoff quarterfinal last night at Bates Field.

A lot of people were looking forward to this battle of Mississippi Valley Conference divisional champions, but it wasn't much of a battle. City High (12-0) scored two touchdowns in the first 29 seconds.

The Little Hawks play Bettendorf (12-0) in a 4A semifinal Friday at 4:30 p.m. in the UNI-Dome at Cedar Falls.

"We had those quick 14 points, and that was huge," said City High quarterback Andrew McNulty. "Jumping on them early like that. We never let off the gas from there."

Cedric Readus fielded a bouncing opening kickoff and returned it 67 yards to the CF 28. On the first play from scrimmage, McNulty dropped back and threw a post pattern to Jeremy Johnson, who juggled but hauled in the pass for a touchdown.

Cedar Falls fumbled the ensuing kickoff at the City High 33. Ronald Thompson broke free for a TD run on the next play.

"When you get up two scores, you've got a powerful offense and your defense isn't quite what you want it to be, you like to get up (ahead)," said Sabers, whose team won its 26th straight game. "So,

Kennedy's postseason surge squelched by No. 4 Bettendorf

By Jeff Linder

The Gazette

CEDAR RAPIDS — Cedar Rapids Kennedy played another splendid defensive game.

But Bettendorf's defense was even better.

The fourth-ranked Bulldogs held Kennedy to 48 yards through the first three quarters and prevailed, 14-7, in a Class 4A quarterfinal football game last night at Kingston Stadium.

"Hats off to them," said Kennedy quarterback Jed Haycraft.

"We tried to run, and it didn't work. We tried to pass, and we had some success, but it was just a little too late."

Bettendorf (12-0) will face No. 2 Iowa City High (12-0) in a semifinal at the UNI-Dome next Friday. Kennedy saw a six-game winning streak come to an end and retired at 7-5.

"All we can do now is look back at the good things we've done (the past few weeks)," Kennedy's Christian French said. "You just have to take this for what it is and accept the loss."

This was the third straight low-scoring affair the Cougars endured. They beat Cedar Rapids Xavier and North Scott in the first two rounds by scores of 11-7 and 13-7.

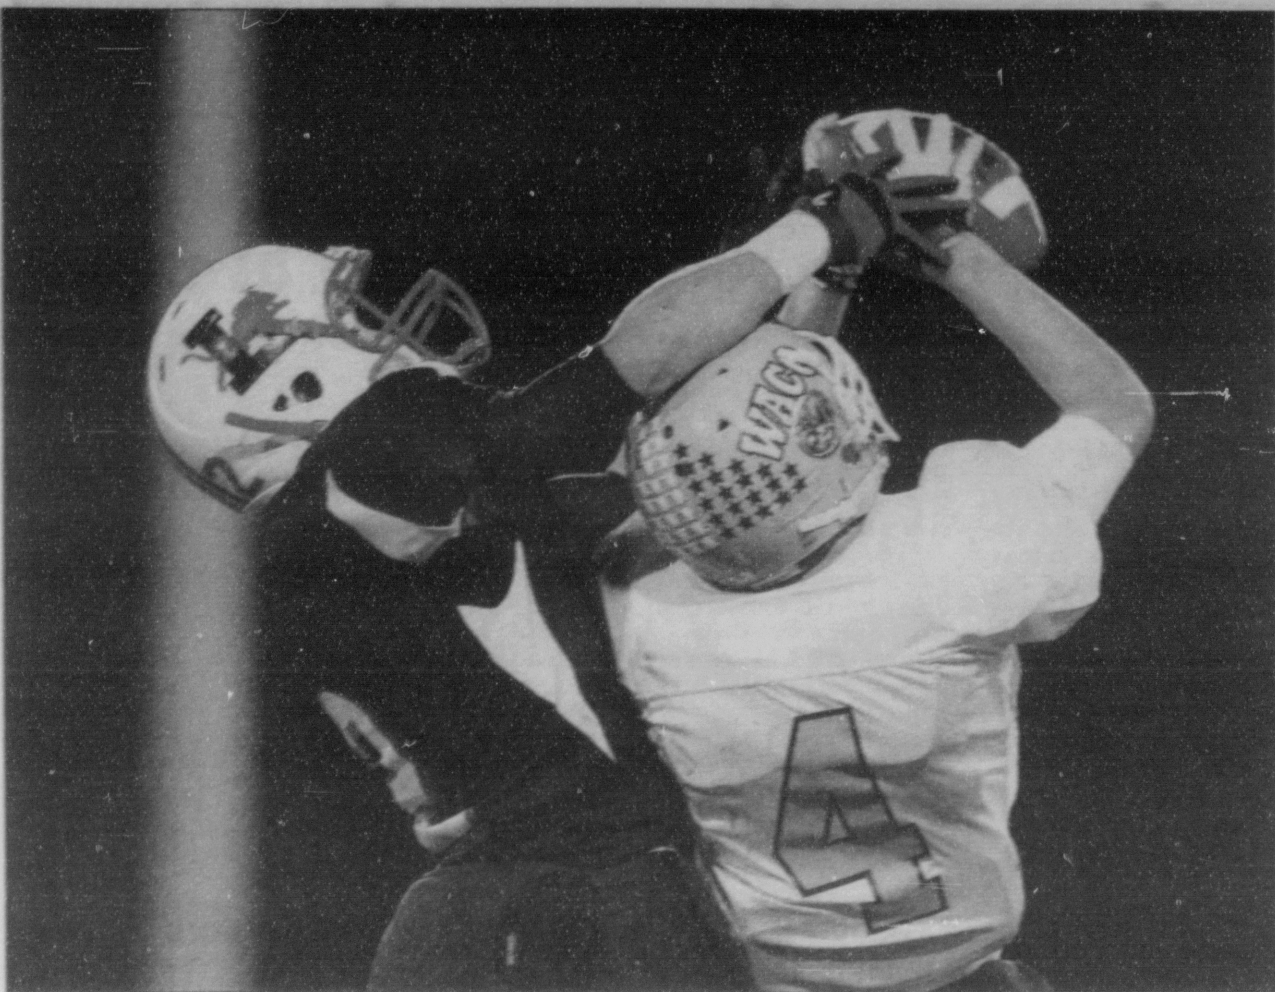

"Our plan was to do what we do best, and that's run the football," said Kennedy Coach Tim Lewis. "We made some blocking adjustments, but we just couldn't get anything going on a consistent basis. We tried to spread them out, but we ran out of time."

Bettendorf avenged a 17-14 loss to the Cougars in last year's first round and improved to 17-4 all-time in quarterfinal games.

"They're a faster team this year," Haycraft said. "Overall, they're just a better team."

Floundering offensively much of the game, Kennedy got within 14-7 on Haycraft's 49-yard pass to Jake Losch with 10:23 to go. Other than that, Kennedy was unable to generate much. Credit the Bulldogs.

"I think we just have physical kids, particularly our front four," Bettendorf Coach Aaron Wiley said.

The Cougars got the ball two more times. One ended in a failed fake punt. The other ended with an interception.

Haycraft threw for 131 yards. The Cougars netted 54 rushing yards. But the defense kept them close.

"That's the best damn four-loss team I've ever seen," Wiley said. "We knew they would give us some problems."

Bettendorf's Malique Hudson returned the opening kickoff 53 yards to the Kennedy 42, and the ball stayed in Cougars territory the entire first quarter. The Cougars stiffened on that first drive and forced a 45-yard field goal attempt that failed. St. Ores pushed right.

Tom Dunlavy intercepted a pass by Haycraft on the Cougars' third play. Bettendorf drove to the Kennedy 2, but the Cougars stuffed Justin Van Houtan on fourth-and-goal.

"The seniors really rallied after the Iowa City High game (in Week 5)," Lewis said. "It was a new season."

Haycraft said, "I couldn't be prouder to be a Cougar. I'm proud of these guys, and I'm proud of the coaches."

"This is just the end of the road."

Act 2: Ditto for WACO, Lisbon

By K.J. Pilcher
The Gazette

LISBON — It was a little déjà vu for the Lisbon Lions and WACO Warriors.

The Class A teams played two important prep football games this fall — the first for the District 5 title in a battle of unbeaten and last night's rematch for a berth in the state semifinals. Unfortunately for Lisbon, the results were about the same.

Fourth-ranked WACO scored three touchdowns in the second quarter to grab control and defeat No. 9 Lisbon, 34-8, in a Class A state quarterfinal. The Warriors advanced to the state semifinals next Friday in the UNI-Dome at Cedar Falls.

The Warriors won the first game, 38-8.

"Very similar," WACO Coach Edeker said. "The only thing we did this time we didn't do last time was we didn't give up a touchdown before half."

WACO (12-0) overpowered and overwhelmed the Lions at times. The Warriors were big, physical, athletic and experienced. Those components helped them set a school record with 12 wins.

"They're just a good football team," Lisbon Coach Kent Allison said. "They were going to be hard to beat any time we play them. They're very physical, well-coached (and) senior-laden."

WACO opened the scoring in the second quarter with a 66-yard, six-play drive. Spencer Shephard took the handoff on 4th-and-1 from the Lisbon 40 and bolted for the end zone. Shephard added a two-point conversion run for an 8-0 lead.

The next two scores were aided by Lisbon turnovers.

Lisbon did answer late while trailing 34-0.

Dacoda Ward punched in a 1-yard touchdown run and Austin Kleinmeyer added a two-point conversion. Kleinmeyer led the Lions with 130 rushing yards. Ward had 45.

The Lions posted an impressive 9-3 mark this fall, finishing second in the district and winning two state playoff games in the same year for the first time.

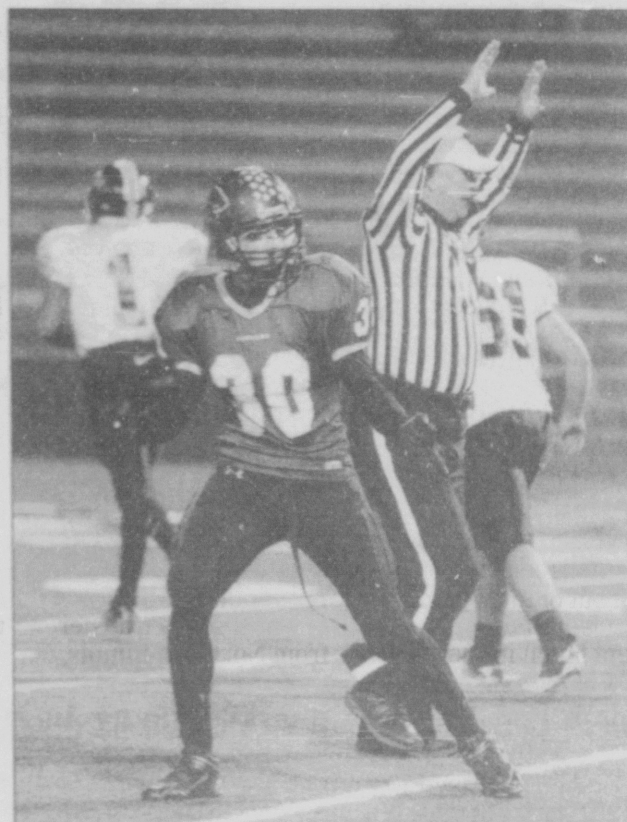

"My kids aren't going to hold their heads down," Allison said. "We had a really good record and a really good season and I'm extremely proud of them."

Only five players on the roster are seniors and Allison said he hopes this team builds off this season's performance.

"Our offseason is going to be really, really important to see where we go with this," Allison said. "Whether we step up or accept what is. It would be a nice offseason to see how we respond. It might be the most important offseason I've had."

WACO plays Mason City Newman or North Tama for a trip to the championship.

yeah, that was huge. A big ballgame like this, to get up, that was a big factor in deciding it."

As was City High's ground game, which produced 396 yards: 151 and a touchdown from Readus, 100 and two touchdowns from Thompson and 96 and two TDs from McNulty. After a Barkley Hill fumble at the City High 4, the Little Hawks went on the mother of all drives to go up 21-0 and eliminate any doubt: 20 plays (all runs) that took 9:47 off the clock.

Readus finished it from 3 yards out. A cut-on-a-dime, fast and sometimes whirling dervish of a back, he's the perfect complement to the power-running Thompson.

"That's a lot of fun right now," Readus said. "We make a big threat for the defense, both of us in the backfield."

The teams combined for seven touchdowns on as many possessions in the second half, with Hill running for a pair of TDs for Cedar Falls (11-1). But that was way too little and way too late.

"That second half was more the game we were expecting," Sabers said. "A shootout."

to run it. He lost 15 to 20 pounds after last season to help with the latter, although he claims it was more to looked tone for spring break.

Last season, he set an NCAA Division III record with 307 passes without an interception. He was picked off once in 12 games. It hasn't been quite as good this season, but Boyle still has a 17-4 TD-to-pick ratio and leads the Iowa Conference with 16 rushing touchdowns. He leads the league in passing, passing efficiency and total offense.

"He's definitely more confident this season with our offense and with his reads, reading defenses," said offensive coordinator Tyler Staker. "The big thing he brings to the table is he's just the ultimate competitor. You look at quarterbacks that are successful, and that's the one common denominator. They compete."

And Boyle may have been known more for his defense in high school. He played defensive end his senior year in the Shrine Bowl all-star game.

He went to Steve Staker midway through his freshman season at Coe and asked if he could play defense. He wanted to see the field and wasn't getting there as a quarterback.

"I was practicing down, and I was just looking to help out," Boyle said. "In the end, Coach said to stick it out. Two weeks later, I was starting."

He threw a game-winning pass in overtime in that first start against Luther. It's been much more of the same since.

"No, I really didn't," Steve Staker said, when asked if he ever saw Boyle becoming this good.

"Shoot, I remember when he was a freshman, he came up to me and said 'Coach, maybe I should go over to defensive end.' I just told him 'Naw, I think you're all right where you're at.'"

Great call, Coach.

Great call.

NORTHERN IOWA FOOTBALL

Improved Sycamores await visit from UNI

By J.R. Ogden

The Gazette

When Trent Miles took over at Indiana State, the football program was in the midst of a 14-game losing streak.

The bleeding didn't stop until Miles' second season, a 1-10 campaign that ended the skid at 33 games. It appears the Sycamores are on the road to recovery.

Indiana State hosts Northern Iowa today (2:05 p.m.) in a game that could decide the Missouri Valley Football Conference title. UNI sits atop the standings at 4-1, and Indiana State is 3-2.

It's been a long and difficult rehabilitation.

"Everybody was ready to give up and these kids never gave up," Miles said.

The Sycamores haven't had a winning season since 1996. What followed had been, well, pathetic. Tim McGuire went 24-54 in seven seasons that included two five-win campaigns. Lou West went 1-32 in three years and Miles entered his third season with a 1-22 record.

"It was very difficult for everybody," Miles said.

Last winter, however, he started to see a change. Now Indiana State is 5-3 overall and winners of four of its last five games. "What a tremendous turnaround," UNI Coach Mark Farley said. "They've done a great job. ... I see a very good football team."

Farley said one person is responsible for the Sycamores' success — Miles.

"I see a team that believes in their staff and believes in their system," he said.

Getting the players, fans and community to believe was the hardest part.

"We had to change the culture," Miles said. "It started with the young men believing in the system and believing in themselves."

Miles is enjoying this turnaround but said the battle continues in Terre Haute, Ind.

"We're not satisfied," he said. "We've got a long ways to go ... we're not close. We're still pushing, pushing, pushing to get there ... we don't have a winning season yet."

He's hard at work to make sure that happens. When asked about the school's marketing slogan for Saturday's game — "Fight to First" — Miles said he knew nothing about it.

"I spend my time in the film room and changing diapers at home and at the practice field," he said. "I just learned how to check e-mail about a year ago."

The Sycamores close the season at Southern Illinois and Youngstown State, the two teams at the bottom of the MFVC standings. Miles will take nothing for granted.

"We want to be better than this," he said.
